Hitler Warns Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Well-informed Axis quarters today said Hitler has warned Turkey he may soon need to use Turkish territorial waters in the Black Sea but has assured the Turks he has no other demands.

This source said the Turkish ambassador to Germany, Husrev Gereide, was asked to transmit this information to his government during an interview with Hitler and German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop at Hitler's eastern front headquarters.

This report said Germany has no intention of asking Turkey for concessions concerning the Dardanelles or other Turkish territory, nor will she ask for permission for German troops and war supplies to cross the country.

The use of Black Sea waters may be demanded, however, if and when German forces reach the eastern extremity of the Black Sea in their Russian drive.

Movements of German and Italian troops and aircraft crews into Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Greece, where they appeared to be menacing Turkish frontiers, were characterized in conversations with the Turkish envoy as "purely a diversion" to worry Britain, this Axis report said.

British quarters reported anew today these movements were continuing.

Japan Attitude Changes?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A personal message from the Japanese Prime Minister to President Roosevelt was delivered to the President today by Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador.

Nomura went to the White House after days of rapidly developing tension growing out of the conflict of Japanese and United States policies in the Pacific.

He conferred with the President and Secretary of State Hull.

He refused to elaborate in reply to a barrage of questions from reporters as to what the message from Prime Minister Konoye contained.

Asked specifically whether the ## message he carried related to U.S. shipments to Russia, Nomura replied he did not think so.

Nomura's call followed by one day a conference in Tokyo between the Prime Minister and the Emperor. Some observers were wondering, in view of this, whether Japan had suddenly adopted a change of attitude.

The ambassador sidestepped all questions as to whether his visit resulted in any improvement in Japanese-American relations or whether he was "optimistic" as to the future.

"Does this meeting bridge the gap between the two countries?" He was asked.

Slapping a reporter on the shoulder, Nomura replied with a smile: "Ask the Secretary."

Final Bulletins

Evacuated

MOSCOW (AP)—The evacuation of the industrial city of Dnieperopetrovsk in the Ukraine was acknowledged tonight in the Soviet communique.

Red Dam Blown Up

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian forces have blown up the great Dnieper River dam, industrial pride of the Soviet revolution, it was announced officially tonight.

"We blew up the dam," said official spokesman S. A. Lozovsky, "so as not to allow this first child of the Soviet five-year plans to fall into the hands of the Hitler bandits."

The dam supplied hydroelectric power for a large sector of the industrial Ukraine.

The spokesman simultaneously denied the Germans had captured Dnieperopetrovsk, as claimed in Berlin, or had cut the Moscow-Leningrad railway.

In Paris, the first three so-called Communists to be convicted by special courts were executed. They were condemned to death yesterday for alleged misdeeds not connected with the Laval shooting.

Laval Assailant Glad, Proud

3 Executed in Paris, Sampaix Jailed for Life

VERSAILLES, German-occupied France (AP)—Authorities of German-occupied France made a sweeping round-up of enemies of the Nazi occupation authorities today in the wake of the Laval-Deat assassination attempt and by mid-afternoon had placed more than 300 persons in "protective custody," some of them from the very ranks of the newly-mobilized anti-Bolshevist legion.

They were carrying revolvers of the same type which Colette had stuck in his leather belt.

Here in Versailles a heavy guard was thrown about the barracks where the shootings occurred and in the early morning hours three anti-Communist legionaries were taken into custody.

Russian Among 3 Executed

The three were Andre Brechet, an electrician, who formerly was secretary to a Communist deputy; Emil Jean Bastard, a militant Communist and a Russian, Abraham Trzebruche.

Authorities apparently feared the anti-Bolshevist legion, formed to fight Russia alongside Germany, contains many more members who, like Pierre Laval's youthful assassin, Paul Colette, had joined purposely to be able to get at the French leaders favoring strong collaboration with Germany.

Today's arrests were made in Paris and Versailles while both Laval and Marcel Deat lay seriously ill in hospital with bullet wounds in their bodies.

Colette, a ship worker who proudly said he was a Free French follower of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, was rushed toward trial before one of the special "anti-Communist" courts just set up by the German-controlled French authorities. It was said the opening of the trial was "a matter of hours."

Pro-Nazi circles said it was evident Colette had been pushed into the attack "by Communist de Gaulist (Free French) elements."

Colette Pleased He Hit Laval

Colette said he was glad he had hit the two pro-Nazi politicians.

Still other arrests were made in Versailles—either to prevent new outbreaks or to block open fighting between collaborators and pro-Allied elements.

Lucien Sampaix, noted Communist journalist and former secretary-general of the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite, who escaped from a concentration camp in the department of Hautes Alpes in the unoccupied zone, was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor.

3 Sentenced To Hard Labor

Three others, Pierre Lanant, Bernard Friedmann and Leon Ladondeau, were sentenced respectively to 15, 10 and seven years at hard labor. Three more were sentenced for distributing Communist tracts.

Fernand de Brinon, Vichy's representative at Paris, announced 3,250 alleged Communists had been arrested in the Paris region from July, 1940, to last Monday. This figure, he said, does not include a large number of Jews recently arrested in round-ups in several Paris arrondissements.

Through intervention of French authorities with German military authorities, Paris temporarily has been spared reprisals over the shooting a week ago today of a German officer in a subway station. Police have been unable to trace two attackers who shot the German in the back.

De Brinon claimed the French themselves have taken "full responsibility" for maintaining order in the German-occupied zone.

Police Chief Takes Personal Charge

Admiral Bard, chief of the police forces in the Paris region, took personal charge of police measures in co-operation with M. Chevalier, prefect of the Seine-et-Oise departments, of which Versailles is the capital.

The two visited Laval and Deat at their bedside and questioned them for several minutes.

Deat was in considerably more danger than Laval, running a high temperature.

A bulletin issued at 1 p.m. said both were doing as well as could be expected, and that hope of saving Deat had not been given up.

Laval was reported to have been struck four times, including wounds near the heart and throat. Deat was hit in the throat and an intestine.

Colette, 29-year-old Norman, who surrendered after the attack he made by posing as a recruit for the anti-Bolshevik Legion, faced a quick military trial and, almost certain execution under week-old anti-Communist regulations.

A description of how the assassination attempt occurred was given last night by De Brinon.

Laval and Deat, along with other leading French collaborationists and Nazi officers, had gathered in the Borgnis de Borde barracks near the Palace of Versailles to address a group of French Legionnaires formed to fight with the Germans against Russia.

Laval, a former premier, one of the leaders in obtaining the armistice with Germany 13 months ago and active in ranging France alongside Germany, talked to the men. The officials started to file out.

"I had left the barracks," De Brinon said. "Laval and Deat were behind me. Suddenly five shots rang out, three in rapid succession, followed by two more."

"I turned and saw Laval stumbling along and holding his side with Legionnaires all around him."

"I called my car quickly and rushed Laval to the municipal hospital. In the other car we put Deat, who never stopped protesting 'It's nothing, it's nothing.'"

Col. Durvy, commander of the barracks, and a Legionnaire named Besset also were reported hit by bullets.

Some reports said Colette hid beneath a balcony waiting until the group left the speaker's platform and passed near him en route to the door. Others said he rose from his seat among the Legionnaires to fire his revolver.

Authorities said he told them he posed as a recruit for the sole purpose of killing Laval.

Deat's condition, physicians said, took a turn for the worse at 10 last night and an immediate intestinal operation was decided upon. A German surgeon described the operation as "perfectly successful."

Iranian Resistance Ends

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press

A reorganized Iran government headed by Premier Ali Furanghi today announced to parliament in Teheran that orders had been issued to Iran troops to cease all resistance to British and Russian forces rapidly advancing toward vital centres of the country.

News of the quick abandonment of armed opposition, on the third day of the Anglo-Russian intervention in the Middle East kingdom, was contained also in dispatches of DNB, German news agency, heard on the radio. The German dispatches said Ali Furanghi was seeking an armistice.

"We shall do our utmost to maintain good relations with the foreign powers, and especially our neighbors, and to continue improvements which are the aims of His Majesty and the whole nation," Reuters quoted the Premier as saying.

WANT SUPPLY LINE

There was a possibility the British and Russian advance would continue until the Allies are satisfied with their military positions there. British authorities want to secure an all-weather supply lane to Russia through Iran.

Dispatches from Cairo said last reports indicated military operations in the Iran area were going ahead at great speed and not likely to last long. The Russians CONQUEST OF IRAN OPENS NEW ROUTES FOR AID TO RUSSIA—Mapped are new routes for war materials from the United States to Russia through the Persian Gulf and a land route from Baghdad which will now be made possible.

also were said to be advancing rapidly from the north.

British troops capped a 100-mile drive of their northern column from Iraq by thrusting through Paitak Pass, one of the strongest natural positions of the Iranians in that section, and reaching Shahabad, a commune said. The Iranians were said to have been fortifying the pass for the past month.

Both Britain and Russia are determined to take full precautions to prevent Iran from becoming a base for future German operations and there is no chance of military operations being halted for peace discussions, it was said in London. The time is past for promises such as Iran's recent offer to expel all Germans, except a few holding indispensable technical posts, within a week.

The London Daily Herald said "there can be no stopping until full Allied demands are met" and expressed hope that "once Iran's communications are cleared war materials will begin to pour into Russia without stint."

Nazis Advance On Leningrad, Odessa

Canadian and Associated Press
The Russians said tonight two successive German defence lines had been broken in a counter-attack on the central front, in the Gomel area.

The Germans said some Nazi troops are within 32 miles of Leningrad.

Marshal Semeon Budenny issued an appeal to besieged Russian forces at Odessa, to defend that Black Sea port "to the last drop of blood."

Finnish encirclement of Vilpuri had contributed to a "difficult situation" for the imperiled Russian city, said a German spokesman in Berlin.

Russian sailors, reinforcing the Red Army, were reported today to have gone into action against the Germans at both the Arctic and Black Sea ends of the long front.

A Red Army communique said Russian soldiers, their backs to the wall around Leningrad and Odessa, are fighting stubbornly.

Advancing along several lines, the Germans stormed the Russian positions "without halting," the Russians said, but the defenders held fast, "skillfully making use of the terrain and their firearms" and exhausted the Germans before they reached the advance defence lines.

One Nazi battalion was reported destroyed by a Red machine-gun unit, while a second was beaten after fighting its way to the centre of town "R."

The German high command claimed two Red Army mechanized divisions have been beaten and all but destroyed on the northern Finnish front, east of Salla.

German operations "continue according to plan," said a Nazi bulletin, at the same time claiming infantry had cut the Moscow-Leningrad railway.

The greatest test of Russia's ability to continue to fight off Hitler's mechanized hordes appears to be approaching rapidly, now the Nazis are penetrating territory more important economically to the Soviets than that lost in the first two months of the war.

Now the Russians can be expected to show to what extent they have developed their secondary line of economic defence—whether the new factories far behind the present battle-lines are equipped and ready to take up the slack in the supply lines caused by loss of much industrial capacity in the Ukraine, and replace the normal losses in the battle field.

Support Queen's Fund

NANAIMO (CP)—C. J. McNelly, president of the Vancouver Rotary Club, in an address at the intercity meeting of Vancouver Island and lower mainland Rotary Clubs at Newcastle Island yesterday, declared "There are now 13 of the 18 Rotary Clubs in British Columbia supporting the Queen's Canadian Fund, and it is our object to have every club take part in the drive."

Rotary Clubs of British Columbia have already given $5,599 to this fund, Mr. McNelly said, and plans have been made to donate further sums of equal amount.

"It is up to us to help the air raid victims of Great Britain," he said, "because they depend wholly on private charity for such aid."

Premier Talks With Queen Mary

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King returned to London today after a visit with Queen Mary in the country. He conferred with several officials in his hotel suite before attending a meeting of the British war cabinet.

"I was delighted to find Queen Mary looking so well," said Mr. King, who last saw Her Majesty during coronation ceremonies in 1937. "She's changed remarkably little in appearance since last I saw her; despite the heavy strain she has been under."

Mr. King said Her Majesty was deeply impressed when he conveyed to her the greeting of the people of Canada. She talked easily of Canada, which she visited with her husband when they were the Duke and Duchess of York.

Queen Mary asked Mr. King many questions concerning the tour throughout Canada and part of the United States by her youngest son, the Duke of Kent. The Queen Mother has collected many newspaper clippings of the tour.

During the visit, Queen Mary asked Mr. King to carry a message from her to the Canadian people, the Prime Minister said. Much of Mr. King's busy schedule in Britain has been made up of conferences with British ministers in relation to planning of the British Empire's continued war effort. He has discussed both the military and civil side of the effort.

"One of the problems we are studying," Mr. King said, "is how the manpower of the Empire can best be utilized to obtain the maximum effectiveness in the war effort."

In explanation, he said a careful study is being made in an effort to determine how Canadian manpower can best be allocated to fit in with the manpower of the British Isles.

Iran Street Fighting Quelled By Indians

By EDWARD KENNEDY
WITH THE BRITISH FORCES
IN IRAN (AP)—Fighting across flat desert and marshlands in 130-degree heat, Indian troops led by British officers were in control today of Iran's three main outlets to the sea, Khorramshahr, Abadan and Bandar Shahpur.

Ever since the Imperial troops crossed into Iran from Basra, Iraq, at dawn last Monday they have been advancing toward the rich Iranian oil fields, still a long way ahead and beyond difficult mountain terrain.

No Iranian planes have interfered with Indian progress. Royal Air Force attacks on a Persian airfield caused destruction of numerous planes and it was believed the country's air force was eliminated.

NOT EASY

Taking Abadan was not easy. The city lies on an island and the Iranians damaged a ferry connecting it with the mainland. Twice British attacks were turned back by the Iranians who were equipped with machine guns, mortars and mountain artillery.

The colonel commanding landing of the troops on the island by improvised boats was wounded almost the moment he set foot in Abadan. The Iranians fought in the streets throughout Abadan, but its big oil refinery was taken intact.

Troops attacking Bandar Shahpur also encountered street fighting, but the Indians soon got the better of their opponents.

Some 700 Iranian prisoners in bright yellowish khaki uniforms already have been sent back by truck to Basra. Iranian casualties appeared to be several hundred.

Nichi Nichi Says:

U.S. Ships to Russia Humiliating to Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Possibility American participation in the war against Japan.

Nichi Nichi said the Japanese representation to the United States concerning shipments to Vladivostok was "almost too reasonable."

The American shipments are humiliating to Japan, which is denied them, the paper declared. It predicted the Japanese government would carry out its determination courageously and without hesitation now that the attention of the entire population was focused on the American vessels bound for Vladivostok.

The newspaper Yomiuri reported British and U.S. diplomats in Bangkok had demanded Thailand terminate trade with Japan under penalty of economic pressure.

On a somewhat different tack, Teichi Muto, widely-read commentator of the newspaper Hochi, urged today Japan seek her aims peacefully through diplomacy, saying he doubted if all such possibilities had been exhausted.

At the same time the Japan Times and Advertiser, controlled by the Foreign Office, declared the U.S. military mission being sent to China constituted virtual

AIR CASUALTIES

OTTAWA (CP)—Twenty-nine airmen were reported dead or missing in Canada and overseas today in the R.C.A.F.'s 66th casualty list of the war, raising total air force dead and missing officially reported since war began to 595.

Following is the new list: Killed during air operations—P.O. Wellington James Loney, Cornwall, Ont.; P.O. Herbert Emilie Joseph Whiston, Montreal; Sgt. Lorne Edwin Brown, Port Rowan, Ont.; Sgt. William Henry McAdam, Bromhead, Sask.; Sgt. Reginald James McInnes, Calgary; Sgt. Reginald Percy Payton, Toronto; Sgt. William Thomas Ross Stephenson, Omeene, Ont.; Sgt. James Francis Paul Stuart, Cornwall, Ont.

Killed in flying accident—Sgt. Melvin Casper Taggeth, Leslie, Sask.

Missing after air operations—P.O. Kenneth Harold Anthony, Toronto; P.O. George Howard Fleming, Owen Sound, Ont.; P.O. Adam Francis Hirst Mills, Toronto; Sgt. Wallace Llewellyn Berry, Cromer, Man.; Sgt. George Henderson Pepper Buchanan, Saskatchewan; Sgt. Jack Edward Fulkerson, Winnipeg; Sgt. Lothian Julian George, Hillingdon, Middlesex, Eng.; Sgt. Howard Hale, dieux, Ont.; Sgt. Douglas Cedar Valley, Montreal; Sgt. James Thompson, Montreal; Sgt. Arthur Bennett Lesley, Eburne, B.C.; Sgt. Thomas Edward McGargle, North Bay, Ont.; Sgt. John Patrick Molloy, Montreal; Sgt. John Bayman Nickerson; Sgt. Thomas Anthony Sherman, Springfield, Ohio.

Previously missing, now prisoner of war—Sgt. George Stewart Edwards, Toronto; Sgt. John Raymond Jamieson, Truro, N.S. Previously missing, now in the hands of the British.

A company of Indian troops was reported landed by airplane in the oil fields to protect British employees of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

LAND ATTACK

The Iranian navy was destroyed in the first four hours of fighting. Two sloops were sunk and the remainder of the fleet of three gunboats and one depot ship were taken after a battle in the Shatt-el-Arab River and the Karun River which runs into it. The Iranian boats were attacked from land as well as from sea.

Indian troops moved downstream from Basra, where the Tigris and Euphrates join to form the broad Shatt-el-Arab, after dusk Sunday to start the attack Monday morning. Others moved eastward out of Basra during the night across long pontoon bridges.

Admiral Bayender, head of the Iranian navy, was surprised in his home at Khorramshahr by the attack. He went to an army post, grabbed a rifle and kept firing until bullets from a Tommy gun killed him. He was accorded full military honors at a funeral which senior British officers attended.

Iranian troops offered stiff but short-lived resistance at several points, but in southern Iran the population welcomed the British.

Their welcome was attributed largely to the fact that the inhabitants of this region are Arabs, rather than Iranians, and many resent the present Shah's smashing of the Arab tribal system under which they and their forebears lived for centuries.

Finland - Nominated

Maitland Pledges New Road Policy

A pledge that the Conservative Party, if elected, would take roads out of politics, put them under an independent Highway Commission, and give British Columbians a road system of which they would be proud, was made by R. L. Maitland, K.C., party leader, when he addressed the Esquimalt District Conservative Association last night at a nominating convention which chose Flying Officer E. V. Finland, member in the last House, to run again.

The convention, held in Colwood Hall, was attended by 116 delegates who gave Mr. Finland a unanimous nomination.

Mr. Maitland, after flaying the government for extravagance and failure to comprehend the real need for co-operation with Ottawa in the war effort, asserted the Conservatives intended to put the road system on an efficient basis with a long range plan that would not only provide highways vital to defence but would take up the employment slack in the post-war period.

Specifically he mentioned the need for completing northern and southern transprovincial highways, a connection to the interior from Prince Rupert, an outlet for the Peace River block, completion of the Hope-Princeton Road, improvement of the Vancouver Island highway, the Big Bend Highway, and finishing of the North Thompson Road.

ELECTION PROPOSAL

"I will remove the planning, the making, the contracting, the hiring of workers and farmers who do maintenance work for taxes, out of politics," he said. "These things will be put under a highway commission answerable not to the cabinet members of the party in power, but only to the Legislature itself. No longer will roads be a political by-product; no longer will men working on roads have to carry a red card; no longer will we save up to scatter unconnected bits of road work throughout ridings where votes are needed most. No farmer will be under obligation to any political party by reason of working out his taxes on road work. We will have a determined plan to proceed in an orderly business like manner with the making and completion of the highways."

He charged the government with wasting $500,000 on drilling for oil in the Peace River, $100,000 for new voters' lists, $143,000 for the health insurance commission, $120,000 for the public utilities commission and money on a fuel control board that had no power.

Mr. Maitland said that to find oil in the Peace River he would lift the reserve on the district and allow experienced oil companies to go there and drill.

The nomination of Mr. Finland was moved by R. H. Pooley, K.C., the former member.

"The Premier has asked for a mandate to collaborate in the war effort," he said. "Why, that mandate was given in the heart and soul of every British Columbian the day war broke out."

Mr. Pooley implied that there had been some political significance behind a recent transfer of Mr. Finland, in his air force duties, away from Victoria. The federal member for the riding was not moved, but "led the parade for Mackenzie King," he said.

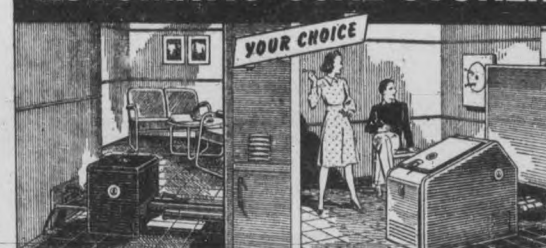

Mr. Finland charged the government with attempting to meet the war emergency on an ordinary party loyalty basis, ignoring the greatest challenge in history because it was politically powerful.

"The emergency is so great it demands the best of all our effort from north to south and east to west in Canada," Mr. Finland said. And by best I mean best. In government it means the fullest co-operation with the authorities at Ottawa who are directing the war effort. Capt. H. W. R. Moore also spoke. F. G. Wade was chairman.

Argument in Kobe

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Times and Advertiser reported today H. E. Hayward, manager of the recently-closed Canadian Pacific Steamship branch at Kobe, was prevented from leaving Shanghai after a dispute with his Japanese secretary over the manner of paying 3,046 yen (nominally about $700) in taxes.

The paper said Hayward told his secretary to sell office fixtures to pay the taxes, but the secretary insisted the tax was a personal debt so Hayward should pay it out of his personal funds. The Japanese then notified revenue officers who prevented Hayward from departing pending settlement.

Strikes

DETROIT (AP)—The Great Lakes Steel Corporation plant here shut down today after what federal labor conciliator James F. Dewey termed an unauthorized strike. Eight thousand men became idle. Dewey said an undetermined number of workers belonging to the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (C.I.O.) walked out in a dispute over wages.

STRIKE VOTE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Employees of the Morrison Steel & Wire Company Limited plant here will decide by secret ballot tonight whether to accept a contract offered by the company providing for wage increases but not including union recognition. The contract offered by the company provides for a blanket wage increase of 7½ cents an hour, retroactive to June 16; a 45-hour standard working week; time and a half for overtime; and double pay for statutory holidays; seniority rights, and an adjustment to piece rates for light wire drawers.

MAY STRIKE

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—John Greenall, spokesman for employees of Star Shipyard (Mercer's) Limited, said today the men will take a strike vote late tomorrow as the first step in obtaining a federal conciliation board to investigate their dispute with company officials over wages and union recognition.

'ILLEGAL STRIKING'

STELLARTON, N.S. (CP)—Dominic Nearing, district board member of the United Mine Workers of America, said today two employees of the Acadia Coal Company had been ordered to appear in magistrate's court, and he understood they faced charges of "illegal striking."

Nearing said the summonses were served on the men by Royal Canadian Mounted Police from nearby New Glasgow. He believed the police acted on instructions from Ottawa.

At the same time, he said he had been told one of the company's paymasters were instructed to appear in court against them as a witness.

Argument in Kobe

The Japan Times and Advertiser reported today H. E. Hayward, manager of the recently-closed Canadian Pacific Steamship branch at Kobe, was prevented from leaving Shanghai after a dispute with his Japanese secretary over the manner of paying 3,046 yen (nominally about $700) in taxes.

The paper said Hayward told his secretary to sell office fixtures to pay the taxes, but the secretary insisted the tax was a personal debt so Hayward should pay it out of his personal funds. The Japanese then notified revenue officers who prevented Hayward from departing pending settlement.

Strikes

DETROIT (AP)—The Great Lakes Steel Corporation plant here shut down today after what federal labor conciliator James F. Dewey termed an unauthorized strike. Eight thousand men became idle. Dewey said an undetermined number of workers belonging to the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (C.I.O.) walked out in a dispute over wages.

STRIKE VOTE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Employees of the Morrison Steel & Wire Company Limited plant here will decide by secret ballot tonight whether to accept a contract offered by the company providing for wage increases but not including union recognition. The contract offered by the company provides for a blanket wage increase of 7½ cents an hour, retroactive to June 16; a 45-hour standard working week; time and a half for overtime; and double pay for statutory holidays; seniority rights, and an adjustment to piece rates for light wire drawers.

MAY STRIKE

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—John Greenall, spokesman for employees of Star Shipyard (Mercer's) Limited, said today the men will take a strike vote late tomorrow as the first step in obtaining a federal conciliation board to investigate their dispute with company officials over wages and union recognition.

Message to Labor

MONTREAL (CP)—In a Labor Day message to workers, Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, says "Labor's loyalty is unquestioned; it seeks not to retard the war effort but to intensify it and strongly objects to being charged with being either unpatriotic or obstructionist when it presses claims, proper consideration of which it is firmly convinced is necessary to maintain and strengthen civilian morale."

Ralston

'Hitler Won't Fold, Struggle Ahead'OTTAWA (CP)—Those who think that because Russia may be holding up the German war machine for the time being the war is won, are laboring under a dangerous delusion, Defence Minister Ralston said last night.He was speaking to a group of weekly newspaper editors and publishers from New York State who stopped here on a tour which has taken them to Camp Borden, Ont., and to Callander, Ont., to visit the Dionne quintuplets.The delusion, the minister said, was prevalent in Canada but he did not know whether it was entertained in the United States.
He warned against it."We haven't begun to win this war so far," he said. "All we have done is avoid losing it.""If we begin to slacken and become complacent we are going to lose it. The year 1941 is a year of preparation; 1942 is a year of getting ready for the grim struggle which lies ahead.""Don't believe this man (Hitler) is going to fold up. There is going to come a time when we have got to take the offensive.
What we are doing now is to get ready for it."

Duranty

'Hitler to Lose
War in 1942'SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hitler will lose the war in 1942 unless the Russians crack completely within the next two weeks, Walter Duranty, Pulitzer prize-winning foreign correspondent told interviewers yesterday.Duranty spent 13 years in Russia as a correspondent for the New York Times, and of the current war raging in Europe he had this to say:"The British had Hitler cooked at Dunkerque. Faltering British morale began its slow upswing at that moment. The swing continues to rise. As Napoleon's empire cracked when his army bogged down, so will Hitler's. He will lose his war in 1942."He said Germany fancied Russia a pushover and underestimated the morale of the Soviet army and the Russian people.Britain Grateful To CanadaOTTAWA (CP)—C. A. Banks, representative of the munitions and supply department in London, has arrived in Ottawa with his wife after a trans-Atlantic flight by clipper plane.He will remain in Canada about a month, familiarizing himself with developments in Canadian war industry before returning to the overseas duties which took him to London 14 months ago."The British people are very grateful for the help coming from Canada," Mr. Banks said.
"They are particularly impressed by the Dominion's financial assistance, which is so vital at this time."In reference to war contracts placed by Great Britain, Mr. Banks said: "So far as the capacity exists in Canada, orders for further equipment will be placed in Canada. England avails itself of the United States lease-lend plan only when capacity in Canada does not exist."

Mascara, Rat Trap Plants
Get Armament Orders

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—In the big scramble to increase productive capacity for defence materials, facilities officers in the Undersecretary of War's Department recently completed a swing through the Cleveland-Detroit-Chicago-St.
Louis area, surveying some 500 more plants which have been making civilian goods, to see if and how they could be converted into military manufacturers.Regional field officers of the army, navy and O.E.M.'s defence contract service set in, and some of the plants they looked over included the makers of beauty shop and barber shop equipment, heating and cooking apparatus, filling station pumps, bicycles, musical instruments, watches, soda fountains and sewing machines. Not that the army or navy had any great shortages of beauty shops, soda fountains, siphons or sewing machines, but just that almost any plant with experiences and good capacity for metal working has a chance to be useful in defence manufacture.Some of the plants looked at on this latest survey aren't nearly as close to the idea of defence manufacture as some of the plants which have already been converted and are now turning out all manner of war orders.FROM POP TO POWDER BAGSThere are still some citizens who keep asking questions as to why a bottling works and a soap factory were given multi-million dollar contracts to operate powder bag loading plants, as was done in the cases of Coca-Cola and Procter and Gamble companies.These weren't exactly plant conversion jobs, as the contracts were made to operate new factories which were to be built and owned by the government, but operated privately. The army was looking for good management, which is as hard to find as good politics.The number of companies with experience in powder making and handling are decidedly limited—DuPont, Hercules, Remington, Winchester and firms like that.
They had already been given big explosives contracts and were expanding their plants and their management personnel as fast as they could. The problem was therefore to find operators with good financial records, reputations for good management andplenty of experience in big mass production operations.In the line of fish-out-of-water contracts, though, there are plenty which make the Coca-Cola and Ivory Soap changeovers entirely rational.There is a manufacturer of beauty compacts in Linden, N.J., making percussion caps for shells.
An old manufacturer of rat traps found that the army had beat a path to his door with a contract to make camp cots, even at the risk that soldiers who had to sleep on the cots might make odious comparisons. A pipeorgan manufacturer is making saddle frames for the horse artillery and cavalry.COFFIN COMPANY GOES DEADLYA metal coffin maker has converted his plant to the manufacture of bomb bodies and fins, while a manufacturer of parking meters has been given a contract to produce time-bomb mechanisms. Both deadly devices, in this case were converted to the making of still deadlier devices.Armstrong Cork, International Harvester and Willys-Overland are among the varied types of industries which got shell-making contracts, while Goodrich Rubber got one of the management and operations contracts to run the big shell and bomb-loading plants for the government, at Texarkana, Tex.In the line of gun mechanisms and parts production, there are a number of unusual contracts.
An adding machine company found that it could make automatic pistols. A manufacturer of cream separators was given the job of making machine gun tripod mounts. Oneida, which has made silverware, is making shackles. The Duplex Company, which makes flat bed printing presses, some using a recoil mechanism, found that it could convert its plant to make recoil mechanisms for big guns.To show what varied industries can make the same thing, it is only necessary to list as plants that are now making fuses, a manufacturer of bathroom equipment, a watchmaker and a lipstick factory.And so it goes. If you have a little trouble getting a new vacuum cleaner, try to console yourself with the thought that one of the vacuum cleaner makers is now busy on a contract for gas masks.outside workers a $5 per month bonus be reconsidered by the employees.Only alternative proposal, made by Alderman H. D. Wilson, was that the council seek to obtain increases in provincial government grants to pay the cost of living bonus, which would mean an increase of $31,000 per month in total wages paid by the city.Employees' representatives said at the council meeting that they were committed to go to conciliation but would "see first what the city can offer." They contended later that it would be a "waste of time" to discuss the matter further in the civic conciliation board.Alderman Charles Jones suggested at the City Council meeting that restoration of a final 2 1/2 per cent pay cut, imposed during depression years, be advanced from December 1 to September 1, man civic employees' delegation advised Mayor J. W. Cornett late yesterday the city's 2,400 employees will apply to Labor Minister G. S. Pearson for appointment of a provincial conciliation commissioner to hear their request for a $13 per month cost of living bonus.The employees decided to take such action after the City Council, at a meeting earlier, referred their bonus request back to the civic conciliation board.Alderman Charles Jones sug-

'SHOOT ON SIGHT'

NEW YORK (AP)—In a statement declaring the Battle of the Atlantic is far from won, the committee to defend America declared Americans are being lulled into a false optimism by "periodic decreases in the sinking of allied shipping by German raiders.""A thorough test has demonstrated use of the United States navy for 'patrol' service is not enough," the committee said.
"Our naval vessels must be used for convoys, with all the shooting implications that go with convoys.""The time has come for the United States to use its naval and air forces to take over the Atlantic, with orders to shoot on sight German naval and aircraft of all kinds."

Men Failing
To Join ArmyMONTREAL (CP)—W. B.
Scott, K.C., joint chairman of a special recruiting committee for overseas service in this military district, said in a written statement yesterday "it is time for the public to know and realize that we are not getting the recruits we need for the active army.""It is also time for the public to do something to encourage recruiting, for the answer to this most important question rests with the public," said Mr. Scott.There is a "crying need for realization of individual and collective responsibility by all classes of society," said Mr.
Scott's statement, adding:

"People do not seem to realize recruiting is something which must be constantly maintained.

Daily, weekly and monthly quotas are not being filled.
"There is a continued and growing need for men, both for the fourth, fifth (armored) and sixth divisions of the Canadian active army and also to fill the gaps developing from day to day in the divisions already established. If one considers the picture when Canadian troops actually get under fire, the situation becomes just that much more serious."

Mr. Menzies Resigns

ADMIRERS OF AUSTRALIA'S PRIME Minister R. J. Menzies will regret that the domestic political difficulties by which he has been confronted ever since the general election of last September 21 have obliged him to relinquish the reins of government in the face of Labor's stout and prolonged refusal to accept seats in a coalition ministry. With a majority of only one in the House of Representatives, and that vote not to be depended upon in a vital division, it was a foregone conclusion that the adamant character of the opposition would manifest itself on the first issue calculated, in its opinion, to merit official objection. This came about when Mr. Menzies announced his desire to return to London in his capacity as head of his government. Labor's parliamentary following voiced its prompt and strenuous disapproval; it argued that the Prime Minister should remain at home in view of the delicate situation in the Pacific. A final attempt to placate the opposition took the form of a proposal to split ministerial portfolios on a fifty-fifty basis. It failed; Labor insisted Mr. Menzies resign and recommend the formation of an administration by the opposition, and that if he still desired to go to London, he should go in some other capacity. The government caucus not unnaturally rejected this proposal out of hand. The sequel is the Premier's resignation today.

Australia's political differences, of course, have nothing whatever to do with the Commonwealth's magnificent contribution to the Empire's cause. All parties vie with one another in their efforts to prosecute the job to which the Dominion is committed. Immediately before and soon after the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, however, Mr. Menzies and Sir Earle Page—leader of the Country Party which supports the United Australia Party's administration in coalition—could not see eye to eye. Mr. Menzies could not be persuaded to find a place for him in the ministry he formed on March 14, 1940; his action was generally regretted because of Sir Earle's long ministerial experience. The Country Party head made way for Mr. A. G. Cameron, who became Minister of the Navy and Minister for Commerce; but his partnership with Mr. Menzies was anything but a happy one. Sir Earle's successor frequently accused the Prime Minister with having regarded—and, still worse, treated—the coalition as a disagreeable necessity, instead of making it a source of strength. But in the new cabinet formed last October 27, Sir Earle Page became Minister for Commerce, and Mr. Cameron's short ministerial life came to an end. While all will recognize the inspiring service Mr. Menzies has rendered to the battle for survival, the circumstances of his political life, especially since he became Prime Minister in 1939, have a direct bearing on the Labor Party's disinclination to co-operate by accepting cabinet membership under his leadership.

An Able Member

SAANICH LIBERALS HAVE MADE NO mistake in nominating Mr. Norman Whitaker to be their standard bearer in the forthcoming provincial election. As their representative in the Legislature, as Speaker of the House, and as a public servant in the widest sense of the term he has acquitted himself admirably. It is safe to say that no member for the enterprising constituency of Saanich has taken a keener interest in the affairs of all the people—irrespective of party affiliation—of that district than Mr. Whitaker. He has familiarized himself with its needs, has taken pains to study its problems from the most practical point of view, and his endorsement on October 20 may be taken as a foregone conclusion.

Popularizing Democracy

IF CANADIAN YOUTH IS TO REALIZE and accept its citizen responsibilities in a free land like this Dominion, it must be trained through "actual working of democracy in the schools," and not by "talking or theorizing about it." This is the kernel of a thought which Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of Queen's University, left with the delegates to the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association in session at Ottawa yesterday. Out of a wealth of experience in the classroom he has been able to separate the wheat of practicalities from the chaff of academics in respect of certain fundamentals in the nation's general educational system—particularly as they relate to the contribution Canada is expected to make to the type of New World Order that must replace the old if the full benefits which should follow "the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny" are to be reaped.

It would be a gratuitous insult to imply that youth itself in 1941 is not thinking more systematically, more logically, than earlier generations. Force of circumstances, human progress in all its aspects, and educational opportunities under innumerable heads in particular have automatically produced a new outlook among the young folk of today. They have witnessed for themselves how democracy can be assailed, how vulnerable it is, and how it is now fighting for its existence, meeting a challenge the like of which it has never had to meet before. Neither talking nor theorizing about it will impart sufficient strength to it—now or afterward—to deliver it triumphant over such forces of despotism as are riding roughshod through its elementary decency.

There is point, therefore, in the assertion of Dr. Wallace that one of the weaknesses of Canada's democracy is the tendency to leave it to too few people in each community to carry the load and responsibility. We presume he implies that one of the country's urgent needs is more practical exponents of the way of life of which we boast, more visible demonstrations of its practical working force—not only in these days of special trial but as an insurance policy for the future. Thus he argues that "the school must be thoroughly democratic itself." In other words, democracy and all the term connotes must be popularized among the young men and women upon whom will devolve the task of solving most of the problems the world-wide holocaust will bequeath to the citizens of tomorrow. Here is a job to which all Canadians will have to apply themselves if Mr. Roosevelt's four freedoms are to be the lot of generations yet unborn.

Laval and Deat

YESTERDAY'S ATTACK ON PIERRE Laval and Marcel Deat is not important in itself; few Frenchmen will shed tears if their wounds should prove fatal. But it is significant as a new manifestation of the spirit of unrest which is gripping the greater part of unhappy France as she realizes the full implications and consequences of Vichy's betrayal. Both Laval and Deat have been traitors to their country for several years; they have represented the type of reaction which still believes in the totalitarian form of government, which accepts the Nazi-Fascist philosophy and the Herrenvolk idea as the substitute for what they choose to call an "effete democracy." Their counterparts linger in dwindling numbers in other lands—lands still free and able to deal with them when they raise their ugly heads.

Laval will be remembered for his part of the "deal" with Mussolini in respect of Ethiopia in 1935; that marked him as an easy tool for a temporarily victorious Hitler later on. He it was who, on the outbreak of war, said to a colleague in the Chamber of Deputies: "If I could have had half an hour with Hitler, I could have averted this." There is not a doubt about the method he would have suggested. And it was Marcel Deat who asked, in his newspaper "L'Oeuvre," a few days before the Nazi machine was set in motion against Poland why it was necessary for France to "fight for Danzig." So, as willing tools of the archpriest of Europe's "New Order," as enemies of the true France, these two men may still live and thrive for the time being on the fruits of their treachery. But the bullets which a young patriot sent into their bodies yesterday may well be the harbingers of others that will help to deliver French men and French women from their bondage.

White Sidewalls Out

IN THE UNITED STATES THE EDICT has gone forth that the white sidewall tire for automobiles is doomed for the period of the national emergency. Apparently this "decoration" requires two pounds of additional crude rubber for each tire, and, of course, our neighbor has a good deal more urgent use for the 13,000,000 pounds of this valuable commodity these white sidewalls require each year—to say nothing of the zinc used in the coloring process. Since the human spirit is infinitely adaptable, and may have to grow considerably more malleable as the human conflict of arms and ideals inexorably wears on, it should be possible for the millions of automobilists in the neighboring Republic to make life bearable even without white sidewall tires. And one of those days we in Canada as well as our friends across the border may wake up to gasoline restrictions that will bring about much greater curtailment of its use than existing regulations have produced.

This is the time of year when some persons wish they had saved their income tax payment as they went along.

THE AIR PLAN EXPANDS

From Toronto Star
Announcement by Air Minister Power that the Commonwealth Air Training Plan is to cost $824,000,000 in the first three years, instead of the estimated $600,000,000, and that Canada's share is to be $331,000,000, draws attention to the magnitude of this great war undertaking. It has been expanded, and its operation accelerated, beyond anything at first imagined, and early next year it is likely to reach an output of 20,000 to 30,000. The time is now in sight when, instead of waiting lists, the call will be for active recruiting for the Air Force.

Because the training facilities are spread right across Canada, the extent of the operations is not readily grasped in any one section of the country. The present set-up is:

Operating	Operate
Initial training schools	4
Units for elementary flying training	25
Advanced instruction schools	14
Bombing and gunnery schools	7
Air observer schools	9
Air navigation schools	2
Wireless schools	4

There are also schools for training instructors and staff. The enterprise is being carried out on an impressive scale, and arrangements are now being made in Britain for renewal of the agreement beyond the three years which the plan was originally designed to cover. It will constitute one of Canada's major contributions to the success of the British cause.

LONG WEEK-END

A long week-end is one in which a holiday like Labor Day is nicely attached to a Sunday, and which tempts you to go away from home. In preparation for it, all you have to do is:

Make some disposition of the dog.
Call up the milk people and the bread people and tell them to deliver neither milk nor bread.

Give your neighbor your address in case the house should burn down in your absence.

Figure out what the weather will be and what clothes will be needed, pack for all members of the family and solve the problem of fitting twice as many bags into the baggage compartment of the car as the compartment appears capable of holding.

Get your neighbor to look out for the ice man and let him into the house to fill the refrigerator so things won't spoil.

Move all the garden furniture from the terrace into the garage and try to remember what on earth you did with the padlock and key for the garage, which you use only when you go away.

Cut off the water so as to prevent a possible inundation and cut off the gas under the instantaneous hot-water heater.

Check the car to see that there is air in the spare tire and that you have a jack and all the necessary accessories in case you get a puncture on the road.

See that no food is lying about that will attract rats or mice and sprinkle the kitchen generously with roach powder.

Make sure that all windows are down and bolted and that all doors are fast.

Having gone to all this trouble, it seems a shame that you must be coming back on Monday evening when, considering the preparations you have made, you might easily be going away for a week, a month or half a year.

CHRISTOPHER BILLOPP.

EDITOR GOES POETIC

From Vancouver Sun

August is one of the year's sweetest months. It is the month of holidays in a peaceful world, of rich, lazy days in the open, of hot beaches and warm lakes and soft evenings.

It is the month of early harvest, also, with wheat going down under the binder, and the last alfalfa crops coming in, with lavish perfume. It is the month of apples ripening on the trees and the early varieties ready for picking, and now the blackberries take over the job where the raspberries left off.

In August the hills are smeared with ragged streaks of blueish haze and the dawns began to have a certain sharpness of them that speaks of the autumn ahead.

THE BRITON'S PRAYER—1941

Just to live on until at last is ended
The war with all its horrors and its pain,
To see triumphant that which I defended
And find in loss the truer, greater gain.
To know that men still count that death is better

Than life if lived on suppliant's bended knee,
And give their all to snap the bonds that fetter
Then smile at Death because their souls are free.

Oh, who would live if liberty were ended—
If life were nothing but a listless thing—
No hopes! No dreams! No vision far-extended To where each day a better day would bring?
What soul would choose to wander on, a craven,
Or thrust aside a martyr's fiery crown
To gain, through shame, some fair enticing haven
By cringing, as a coward, for renown?

No! Let me live while life has still a meaning—
Let me live on while still there is a goal—
Else let me die in triumph, gladly gleaming
That I, through death, at least have saved my soul.

Free from the shackles that would bind and shame me,
Were I to choose the more ignoble part,
I cast in scorn the trait'rous thought behind me
And press my unscathed manhood to my heart.

U.S. AT WAR?

Whether or not the United States ever actually and formally declares war against Germany and her allies is a matter for the people of the republic. But there could be no greater folly for anyone in our part of the world than to imagine that the matter is of no material importance.

It is the height of absurdity to pretend that the United States is already doing as much as she could do to win this war against Hitler; and that an actual declaration of outright war would therefore mean nothing.

A declaration of all-out war by the strongest single nation in the world would have these obvious results:

1. It would have a profound effect in every nook and corner of the globe. The people of Germany would realize immediately that their real task was to get rid of the leaders who had led them, and the world, into the present tragic position. It would greatly encourage those resisting aggression. It would immediately stampede the waververs over to the side of the anti-Axis. Hitler would have little if any chance thereafter of dragging in with him Japan, Spain or Vichy France.

2. It would make available for immediate action an air force as formidable, for its size, as any in the world, and large enough by itself to establish complete air supremacy over some parts of western Europe.

3. It would make available for action in the not-too-distant future land armies large enough to help end the war in a matter of months rather than years.

4. Above all, it would end the paralyzing arguments about what the U.S. should or should not do, and concentrate the whole enormous energy of that nation into actual fighting of the war.

Bird Migration

By E. R. CAMPBELL
Cowichan Leader

"O swallow, swallow, flying south, Bear me on your pinions swift."

The boys and girls who live in Victoria and Vancouver have often seen gulls following the ships to Vancouver and vice versa, and on stormy days "who has not heard the dirge of far-off gulls calling?"

A few years ago I was at Qualicum Beach, long before it became the fashionable place it is today. There I saw one of the most wonderful sights I have ever seen. Birds of all kinds, large and small, on the seashore resting before continuing their journey—where to. He alone knows. Some were in winter dress, some in gorgeous summer plumage, and a few were bedraggled specimens.

These are the old maids of the bird world, old birds unable to find a mate. It is a strange insight into bird life. We listen to their songs and merry chirpings in spring and summer and think they have nothing to worry about. But they, too, have their disappointments and problems. As the day wore on, stragglers appeared and loafed about in an aimless fashion, waiting for the day of embarkation and the invisible signal known only to them.

The migration of birds is an old problem and the mysterious exodus must be the instinct that leads them to lands where food is plentiful and liberally spread.

As I watched them from the cliff I thought that one of the most interesting features of bird life is their coming and going.

The great majority seek warmer climes during the cold season. A few, like the sparrows, stay and share our hardships during the winter; but the rest are our guests for a while only—our hot-weather friends.

Some very incredible stories were once held of swallows, even conditions, the regularity of migration is simply amazing. They also have their routes and keep to them year after year, and century after century, and when we think of this year's birds, who were in the nest this spring, winging their way over five or seven thousand miles of land and ocean, it is wonderful.

Quite a number die on the way. Some dash themselves against lighthouses, blinded by the strong light, and some come to grief on ships. These have perhaps taken the wrong route or got separated from their comrades in a storm.

It is hard for us to understand the instinct that tells them to go and to come approximately to the same district, knowing in their far-off land that spring is there.

This is all too deep for us to understand.

Chautemps

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—Camille Chautemps, four times Premier of France, said yesterday in his first public address in the United States that his homeland was easy prey to the Germans because "our military technicians did not understand quickly enough or fully enough the decisive role which the heavy tank, combined with air force, would play in modern war."

Chautemps told 150 Service Club members that the French government had been aware of Germany's rearmament, but was "too slow" to impose the necessary acceleration in production of war materials.

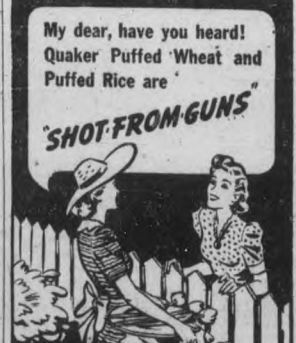

He said his countrymen entered the war "not to defend their own soil, and still less to conquer one inch of foreign territory, but to honor their treaty and to defend the liberty of another nation."

The dispirited French people, "while relying on their own tenacity, count also on the powerful and noble friendship of your great country to hasten their resurrection," Chautemps declared.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening. After the opening prayer Mrs. H. G. Bourne continued the study of missionary work in the Bhil field and read appropriate Scripture. The members worked on a pretty patchwork quilt, which is nearing completion. At the close, refreshments were served and the usual social time was spent.

WILLIAMS-CLARK

In the Metropolitan United Church vestry at 2.30 this afternoon, Rev. W. M. Scott united in marriage Margaret Kergin, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clark, Prince Rupert, and Mr. Harold John Williams, elder son of Mrs. J. T. Williams, 2751 Richmond Road, and the late Mr. Williams, Victoria.

The bride, a 1940 graduate from the Royal Jubilee Hospital, was given in marriage by her mother, and wore a becoming redingote ensemble of dusty rose with tiny navy fleck, a navy blue straw hat with tiny veil and flowered crown and navy blue accessories. On her shoulder was a corsage of deep pink rosebuds and pink heather. She was attended by Miss Lillian Williams, sister of the groom, wearing a deep navy blue tailored suit with dusty rose crepe blouse, stitched silk hat in matching shades and a corsage of cream rosebuds. Mr. Douglas T. Williams acted as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Clark was smartly attired in a tailored navy blue silk frock with navy accessories, and Mrs. Williams chose a simple model of sheer black lace, with chic black autumn felt hat with flowered crown, and black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

After a motor trip up-island, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home at Arundel Drive, Portage Inlet.

MARVEN-MAXWELL

A quiet wedding took place on August 16 at 3 o'clock at All Saints' Church, Alberni, when Joan Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marven, Salmon Arm, B.C., was united in marriage by the Rev. G. Stevenson to Mr. Robert Maxwell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Maxwell, Cowichan Bay.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. David Marven of Alberni, the bride wore a long-sleeved sheer wool dress of a light rose-wood shade. He had a large Catalina model in light beige and brown, was matched in beige gloves, and beige and brown shoes. A contrasting corsage of purple violas and pink Tailsman roses was worn on the shoulders.

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. David Marven, who wore a pink Swiss dot navy blue sheer with navy blue accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

For a wedding trip the bride and groom left by auto for Sprout Lake and Qualicum. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Marven will live at Cedar Cabins, Lake Cowichan.

Social and Personal

The United States Consul and Mrs. Reed Paige Clark entertained at a dinner party last night at the Union Club in a farewell to His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hammon. Covers were laid for 27 at a table centred with an exquisite arrangement of gold and copper chrysanthemums, with candelabra containing lighted tapers in pale gold tones. After dinner, the hosts took their guests back to their home, "Riffington," the Uplands, where bridge was enjoyed.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, who is being much feted in anticipation of her marriage next week to Pay Lieut. Commander John Barclay, R.C.N., was the guest of honor when Miss Jean Mayhew, assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, entertained at the tea hour this afternoon at her home, "Kah-Na-Way," Beach Drive, Uplands. Miss Martin was presented with a corsage bouquet in red, white and blue flowers, together with a handsome silver entree dish, on behalf of the assembled guests, the gift being wrapped in a miniature Union Jack, tied with red, white and blue ribbons. The same patriotic theme was repeated in the decoration of the tea table, where the centerpiece took the form of a naval crest carried out in red, white and blue flowers. Miss Margaret Bucklin and Miss Ann Critchley presided at the table. Other guests invited were: Mrs. John Galt, Mrs. G. A. Bucklin, Mrs. R. B. Horton, Mrs. Cary Todd, Mrs. Denis Mason-Hurley, Mrs. D. Her sister, Mrs. E. Lee-Warner, was matron of honor, wearing a floor-length sheer chiffon dress of deep wine, with very full skirt and long bishop sleeves. The fitted bodice was trimmed with Empress ruffles, as were also the cuffs of the sleeves. Her small turban was of velvet flowers in two shades of pink, finished with a large bow of veiling in the back. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. Little Miss Judy Hinton was flower girl, wearing a full-skirted pink georgette frock over a pink slip, with short full puff sleeves, and carried a colonial bouquet of wine pompon dahlias, centred with a pink rose. Sergt. Gordon Muggieridge, R.C.A.M.C., was best man.

At the reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Humphries received in an afternoon Queen's model frock of black silk with long sleeves, the front centre pleats having contrasting inserts of red and white, the same motif being repeated in the lapels of the bodice. Her wide-brimmed hat of black straw was trimmed with black moire ribbon, and she wore a corsage of red and white carnations.

The three-tiered wedding cake centred the supper table, topped by a silver vase of white heather. Summer flowers were used in profusion throughout the reception rooms.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon on the mainland before leaving for Ontario, where Sergt. Hockley is stationed on military duties, and en route will visit his parents at Bowmanville. The bride traveled in a pale blue two-piece crepe dress, with a pleated skirt, shepherd's plaid coat, a black hat and black accessories.

MORE ABOUT MAELSTROM

The reputation of this pamphlet is widening. I am informed that already it has spread from Victoria and is now being read in Canada, America, Britain and South Africa, though not yet, to my knowledge, in Australia.

It is gratifying for us who are local admirers of a local production to have our appreciation thus shared and our verdict confirmed by a larger audience. Here, in Victoria, to make a rough estimate, Maelstrom has 50 admirers for each single unfriendly critic, which would appear to show that the brochure really voices the views of the people. The minority is a negligible one, and their background easily recognizable as our old friend, obscurantism.

The difference of opinion, such as it is, is narrowed today. For, while almost every one has by now abandoned "appeasement" in external affairs, the only question in debate now left open is the nature and extent of the internal changes desirable in the present-day set-up, economic, political and social. Many "straws in the wind" (to use Maelstrom's phrase) indicate that such change will be sweeping, even revolutionary though almost certainly brought about by peaceful means. The world is tired of "shooting" wars.

SAANICH WATER

I am in favor of a Saanich-owned water system. At this stage a public announcement through the press should be given. I have little use for political meetings and their promises. Questions such as these should be answered: Is the cost of the entire system to be levied on every property owner in Saanich whether they use the water or not? Have the promoters already procured options on the nine sites where the drilling is to take place?

The names of the owners and the prices agreed upon should be given.

I understand that at least $1,000,000 could have been saved on the Victoria waterworks scheme had there not been so many getting in on the ground floor which should not be repeated this time. All possible means should be considered to get full value for every dollar spent. Possibly Reeve Passmore or the doctor can give the actual figures for our consideration.

Workmen Need Plenty of Protein

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDON

If the man of your house drives a car, truck, bus or trolley car for a living, his job exhausts both his physical and nervous energy, and it's up to you to restore it daily by feeding him the foods that will help keep him fit.

Use milk, eggs, fruit and vegetables in each day's meals as well as meat or other complete protein three times a day.

The average vehicle driver needs from 2,700 to 3,400 calories a day and from 66 to 72 grams of protein daily to repair nerve and body tissues, so make up your menu with your husband's job in mind—here is one for a day to serve as a guide:

Breakfast—Half grapefruit, pork sausages, buckwheat cakes, maple syrup, coffee, milk.

Lunch—Lamb stew, salad greens with lime mayonnaise, baked stuffed apples and cream, milk.

Dinner—Bean soup, hamburger steak with onion sauce, mashed potatoes, green beans, fresh fruit, coffee, milk.

Hamburger Steak With Onion Sauce

One pound ground beef, 2 tablespoons chopped bacon, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1½ cups onion rings, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ cup tomato catsup, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, dash of tabasco.

Combine ground beef, chopped bacon, salt, pepper and lemon juice. Blend well and form into small steaks. Sauté in a small amount of fat until golden brown on both sides. In the meantime, sauté onion rings in melted butter until tender and lightly browned. Add catsup, Worcestershire sauce and tabasco sauce, and continue cooking for 5 minutes. Pour sauce over hamburger steaks just before serving.

TOMORROW
Breakfast—Milk, scrambled eggs, whole-wheat toast, coffee, milk.
Luncheon—Potato and onion soup, watercress sandwiches, cookies, tea, milk.
Dinner—Tomato juice, casserole of shoulder of veal, noodles, red cabbage, grapefruit and lettuce salad, cup custard, coffee, milk.

Cost-of-living Bonus For Civil Servants

OTTAWA (CP)—Effective from August 1, a cost-of-living bonus will be paid to the vast majority of members of the federal public service—those earning less than $2,100 a year and all manual workers—it was announced yesterday.

Civil service officials estimated about 85,000 Dominion government employees from coast to coast will qualify for bonus payments.

A flat rate bonus will be paid to all full-time and seasonal employees earning between $1,296 and $2,100 a year, to full-time manual workers without supervisory duties who are engaged in war work and earning over $2,100 a year, and to heads of households earning less than $1,296 a year.

The flat rate bonus is 25 cents a week for each 1 per cent rise in the cost of living. Maximum flat rate bonus payable immediately will be $1.91 a month, since the cost of living had risen 11 per cent at July 1, 1941, as compared with August 1, 1939.

Part-time employees and full-time employees earning less than $1,296 a year who are not heads of households will receive a percentage bonus, based on 1 per cent of the total compensation received by the employee for each 1 per cent increase in the cost of living. In the first instance the maximum bonus will be 11 per cent of total compensation.

In no case may the percentage bonus received by any employee exceed the bonus which would be payable under the flat-rate.

The order-in-council providing for the bonus to civil servants was made public, along with an explanatory memorandum from the finance department.

"A definition of the public service of Canada, provided in the order-in-council, specifically includes the Canadian National Railway Company, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Bank of Canada, the military, naval and air and auxiliary forces of Canada, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police," this memorandum said.

"Specific provision has been made in the order-in-council for the exclusion of the class Revenue Postmaster and staff of revenue post offices, for whom a separate bonus plan is in course of preparation.

"A postmaster of a semistaff post office, who is a civil servant, and his staff, will receive bonus."

The cost-of-living bonus to civil servants was described officially as an application of the industrial cost of living bonus recommended in order-in-council P.C. 7440, "with such modifications as are suited to the public service."

The social meeting of Britannia 216, L.O.B.A., will be held on Tuesday at 7.30. There will be cards and refreshments after the meeting, to which friends will be welcome.

Wants to Die In Gas Room

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (AP)—Eldon R. Hawk has demanded that Gov. Culbert L. Olson permit him to die in San Quentin's gas chamber Friday.

"It shouldn't be necessary that I am compelled to keep writing you, asking, coaxing and begging," wrote the 36-year-old slayer.

Governor Olson has given no indication of any intention to interfere with the execution.

Troubling Hawk, however, was a plea for clemency by Mrs. Lee Arris of Los Angeles, widow of the man Hawk pleaded guilty to killing during a burglary.

In his letter to the governor, Hawk wrote:

"I have feared you may be foolish enough to listen to her nonsense. You have no legitimate grounds on which to commute me or even to give me a longer reprieve. I murdered the man in cold blood.

"I deserve my penalty. I planned the murder, and, if I was out tomorrow, I would go on in my criminal life."

Mrs. Arris in her plea for clemency said: "My husband and I always were opposed to capital punishment and I feel this young man can make a contribution to society even within prison walls."

Company Charges Strike Threat

DUNCAN (CP)—Sessions of an arbitration board hearing a dispute between the Lake Logging Company, Cowichan, and its employees, moved to the scene of operations yesterday.

When the hearing opened before Dean F. M. Clement of the University of British Columbia, chairman; R. J. Hamilton, employer's representative, and John Stanton, employee representative, J. A. Clarke, K.C., appearing for the company, said it was impossible to "arbitrate" successfully because he claimed the employees' representatives entered the hearings with "closed" minds. "It is impossible for the board to reach a decision because the employees' spokesmen have said that unless their demands for union recognition and a closer shop are met, they will strike," Gen. Clarke said.

John Wigor of the Pacific Coast Lumber Bureau, representing the employees, protested "we are not threatening the board. The men are just as anxious as the company to arrive at some happy conclusion."

"However they feel that the company must explain why they will not grant union recognition to the men," he said.

The employees are asking union recognition, seniority rights, leave of absence and a closed shop.

France 'Sold Out' Early as 1937

Traveler, lecturer, World War veteran, Lieutenant-Col. C. Seymour Bullock, who during his travels has collected one of the most representative collections of autographs in the world, believes France "sold out" to Germany as far back as 1937.

He bases his opinion on observations made during a visit to Europe in 1936. He learned then from reliable sources that precise and accurate plans of the Maginot line were in the possession of Hitler. When he was in Germany

he foresaw, as many others did that an European war was a foregone conclusion and that no manner of appeasement could avert it.

Lieut.-Col. Bullock, who, despite his American citizenry came in on the side of Britain nearly two years before his own country did, and made his decision as a protest following sinking of the Lusitania, has definite ideas about this war, too. Despite his years, the white haired World War veteran bristles with indignation when the Nazis are mentioned. He'd be over in a minute if he was younger. He doesn't agree with what he calls the "wishy-washy" attitude of many in the United States in the present conflict. Democracy and the free way of living are at stake, he declares, and it's as much the United States fight as the British.

Colonel Bullock carries with him a priceless document, which a number of people who met him here have had the pleasure of perusing. It is an autograph book signed, and in many instances with most friendly messages, by crowned heads and important world personages, from all over the world. They range all the way from Queen Mary and the former Prince of Wales (now Duke of Windsor) to Admiral Beatty, Lord Fisher, Lloyd George, ambassadors galore, to richest men in the world. He has met them all and been on friendly terms with them. A glance through his autograph book is a glance at world history. For each signature, Mr. Bullock has a personal reminiscence.

At the end of the war, in which he was wounded, Lieut.-Col. Bullock had the honor of being presented to Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace and presenting to her as a souvenir and memento of United States-British friendship, the first Stars and Stripes flag used in a combat zone of the World War. Newspaper clippings and pictures record the scene, and are part of his autograph book.

Busy on Orders

The Red Cross Workshop on Johnson Street is busier at the present time than at any time in its history. F. W. West, manager of the shop, reports. Withdrawal of the government subsidy four months ago had forced the carpenters' division to close, but other sections were active.

Two of the carpenters have remained at the shop, and are carrying on on their own initiative. Metal and handwork sections are well supplied with work. An order of 300,000 poppies has been received for Armistice Day. Approximately 100,000 have been made already. With the poppies there are a great number of wreaths on hand, ranging from the smallest to some which stand over four feet high. Poppies and wreaths for all B.C. are made in the Victoria Workshop. Eight months of the year are devoted to the making of these poppies.

The metal section of the shop also is finding it difficult to keep up with the orders. Some of the more unusual pieces of work that the men have made lately are three funnels for Victoria-built ships. Water tanks, fire screens, garbage cans and all sorts of metal work in connection with the new fluorescent lighting is handled by Red Cross shop workers.

Nine motorists were fined $2.50 each in City Police Court today on charges of parking their cars over the time limit in one and two-hour zones, for parking over 12 inches from the curb and for parking over the property line. Two motorists were fined $10 each for speeding, and one was fined $5 for not making a hand signal when turning.

City Relief Bonus Urged

In a move to improve the lot of relief cases, the City Council yesterday afternoon gave unanimous support to a motion from Alderman Archie Wills asking the government to consider payment of cost-of-living bonuses to those in that category.

The motion seeks approval for a bonus up to $2 a month and makes provision for payment by the city of 50 per cent if the government accepts the suggestion.

Alderman Wills remarked on the general move throughout Canada to pay cost-of-living bonuses to offset increased prices and declared that if any class of people needed help it was those on relief. He cited figures showing relief families secured monthly allowances for man and wife of $16.50 for food, $8 for shelter and $4.23 for each dependent. Similarly, single men and single women received 46 and 50 cents respectively a day for food and shelter. There were 432 listed on the rolls at present and a bonus to the maximum he proposed would cost the city only $432 a month, he said.

NOT ENOUGH

He would have to be forced to exist on the small allowance granted a man and wife, the alderman added, before noting the majority of cases now receiving aid were elderly or unfit people who could not find employment owing to their disabilities.

Alderman John A. Worthington urged the city take no independent action but refer the question to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, since it affected all the province.

Alderman Wills replied he was interested in the city alone and saw no reason why the move should be delayed anywhere up to three months while the union acted.

Alderman W. H. Davies asked that pensioners be added to the beneficiaries under a bonus scheme but was told the motion covered city relief cases only. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar remarked such people were definitely Victoria responsibilities.

After the motion carried, Alderman Davies brought in another asking the government to give similar consideration to mothers' pensioners, old-age pensioners, war pensioners and others in similar conditions. His motion also carried.

Saanich Water

City Council Refuses To Become Involved

Unwilling to intrude politically into Saanich's water question at the present time, the City Council yesterday afternoon tabled for a month consideration of Alderman Ed. Williams' motion calling for conferences between city and adjoining water boards with a view to establishing a metropolitan water area.

The time was not opportune to approach Saanich, Alderman P. E. George declared following reading of the Williams' motion. He thought the city might proceed with conversations with Oak Bay and Esquimalt authorities, but thought it should stay out of Saanich until some concrete proposal could be offered that municipal. Discussions at present would only confuse the minds of the public, he thought.

Alderman Williams replied at some length, explaining the purpose of his motion but asking that his remarks be not published. "It appears that Alderman Williams is trying to inject this issue into Saanich politics," said Alderman Archie Wills following the former's explanation. "Their wells are their own concern," he continued, advocating delay on the matter and a month's hoist for the motion. "He said he favored a metropolitan area not only for water but also for fire, police, library, hospitals and health."

Alderman W. L. Morgan cited Saanich reports to the effect that municipality had studied a Greater Victoria water scheme and found it not to be in Saanich's interests. Alderman Morgan thought the metropolitan area idea very sound and very much in Saanich's interests.

Alderman John A. Worthington cautioned delay, saying consideration of that matter required careful thought and the assistance of actuarial expert. Who would pay for the latter, he asked?

"The motion asks for discussions and a meeting only," Alderman Williams replied. It was not a political issue, he said, but added that if Saanich voted for wells the metropolitan water board would be harder to establish at a later date.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar voiced agreement with Alderman George, saying he favored a Greater Victoria water board advantageous to the whole area. He felt, however, that any action at present would antagonize a part of Saanich in view of the well by-law to be submitted there.

Alderman W. H. Davies thought the city "should make some offer to those unfortunates in Saanica who may be saddled with a well system."

Alderman George again spoke against intrusion at present, on the grounds it might be considered a political gesture.

The Wills amendment to table the Williams motion for one month passed on a six to three division.

City Hall Topics

Industrial Water Agreement Is Signed

Signing of the agreement between the city and the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Ltd. for the purchase of water by the latter, was authorized by the City Council yesterday afternoon. The action closed negotiations which featured civic activity early this summer and have hung fire for several weeks.

The agreement was signed without provision for payment by the company of costs of installing a check meter on its special fire protection service main. Such payment was not required by the by-law in cases where the line was already in operation, the city solicitor stated.

Expenditure of $1,100 on repairs to the sea side of the Ross Bay seawall while a special cement gun is available to the city at no cost, was approved on the recommendation of the city engineer.

Gasoline conservation measures requiring night closing of service stations hit the city lights department yesterday. Owing to the stations ceasing operations in the evening a vote of $400 was ordered for installation of street lights at corners previously illuminated by the distributors.

A grant of $50 was passed for the Salvation Army Band to assist it on its tour of the interior.

The market by-law was changed to permit monthly rental of stores in the market building as independent units.

Payment of $1,398 towards the superannuation fund of city relief department employees was authorized.

Compensation for chickens destroyed by unknown dogs will be paid to Mrs. H. Jackson. She alone of three applicants filed her claim within the time limit permitted for such action.

Tenders for the demolition of 34 condemned structures were called on the recommendation of the sanitary inspector. Demolition orders against 923 Caledonia Avenue were reaffirmed and the health committee was asked to deal with a request from Mrs. J. M. Lang for similar action on the Butterworth home at 1118 North Park Street.

A recommendation was passed asking the Union of B.C. Municipalities to support the city in efforts to have the provincial government control more closely structures in unorganized territory and to pass legislation covering demolition of those near adjoining municipal boundaries when that course is desirable.

Stop signs were ordered on Menzies and Government Streets near Dallas Road on the recommendation of the public works committee. The same group found support for removal of a diseased cherry tree on Blanshard near Burdett and for extension of the Denham Street sidewalk, near Shelbourne, at a cost of $62.

In view of the fact the lowest Canadian tender was $100 higher, the city accepted a U.S. bid to supply 1,000 pounds of gutter broom wire for $206.

Waterworks supply orders were placed with A. Sheret Ltd. for $619 worth of material, with Crane Ltd. for $666 and with McLennan, McFeely and Prior Ltd. for $561.

A proposal to prune and doctor decaying oaks in Beacon Hill Park, suggested by the parks superintendent, was referred to next year's estimates committee.

Mayor McGavin served warning on contractors who have allegedly been using sidewalk barriers for purposes other than the protection of the public that police action would be taken against them if they persisted in the reported practice.

The Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd. letter asking for specific faults the city finds with the garbage crusher the firm made for it was referred to the public works committee.

Regret over the death of the Marquis of Willingdon, first freeman of Victoria, appreciation for his many virtues and sympathy to the bereaved were expressed in a motion proposed by Alderman Wills. The council honored his memory with a standing vote.

A letter from the supervisor of the National Salvage Campaign asking the city to save animal fats and bones was referred to the public works committee.

City employees, and particularly aldermen, were enjoined by the mayor to do everything in their power to conserve gasoline as the council received and filed a conservation plea from the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

The public works committee was asked to report on the need for and cost of repairs on David Street between Bridge and Turner Streets. Improvements are sought by the Dalziel Box Company.

With receipt of the required number of petitioners, the council instructed the city solicitor to draft the required by-law to enforce closing of men's and boys' clothing stores at 6 on Saturday evenings.

Ten properties with a total value of $11,725 were sold and an appropriation of $400 was authorized spent in newspaper advertising on the recommendation of the lands committee. Included in the sales was the 10-foot strip of Wilcox Lane owned by the city. It brought $2,500. Vacant property on the southeast corner of Belmont and Ryan brought $50; on the north of Edgeware Road between Gosforth and Doncaster, $50; on the east of Wellington between Faithful and Dallas, $400; on the south of Wilson between Rothwell and Dalton, $50; and on the east of Fifth between Vista Heights and Hillside, $175. Among improved property, 1145 Grand Street was sold for $550; 1645 Oak Bay Avenue for $1,500; 643

Streets Clean Early in Day

Streets in the downtown section of Victoria are swept clean by 7.15 in the morning but become littered when janitors start cleaning out their stores, George Allison, city garbage superintendent, informed the City Council yesterday afternoon as that body considered complaints over untidiness.

The question came to the fore again with letters from A. S. Denny, R. H. Thomas and the Victoria Automobile Club, all of whom offered constructive criticism and commended council members for the interest shown in the matter. The letters were referred to the public works committee.

Alderman Ed. Williams, chairman of that group, outlined discussions on the question and laid much of the blame for littered streets to business people who brushed out their stores and sidewalks and sent the refuse over into the gutter. He would have a recommendation for the next council meeting, he said.

Alderman W. H. Davies claimed city streets 10 times as clean as Vancouver.

Mr. Allison, replying to question by the mayor, stated the mechanical sweeper covered the city between 2 and 6.30 in the morning and was followed by a motorcycle scavenger who picked up what the machine missed. When stores opened and janitors cleaned out, litter returned, he said.

TOO DANGEROUS

The proposal to employ "white-wings" was of questionable value, he said, noting modern traffic conditions constituted a definite menace to their lives.

He thought if merchants would care for their sweepings in a manner other than pushing them into the gutter much of the trouble would be ended.

Alderman John A. Worthington expressed the view the city was remarkably clean.

City solicitor F. L. Shaw stated a city by-law compelled merchants to sweep the sidewalk and to dispose of their own refuse, but did not prevent them from sweeping sidewalk rubbish into the gutter.

Alderman Archie Wills noted a certain amount of disorder was caused through the action of certain trucks unloading and tearing wrapping paper off large parcels on the sidewalk. Could action be taken against that, he asked?

"Yes, by the police," the mayor replied.

Alderman P. E. George, later in the meeting, introduced a motion asking the service clubs and other associations to co-operate with the city in keeping streets clean by seeking the support of their businessmen members.

Medical Grant Here Challenged

The City Council yesterday ratified the agreement with the Victoria Medical Society whereby the latter provides service to city indigents, including relief cases, inmates of homes and small pensioners, for $700 a month.

With the ratification, proposed by the health committee, went a recommendation that the Union of British Columbia Municipalities support Victoria in applications to the provincial government to assist to a greater degree in meeting the charges.

At present, Alderman John A. Worthington, health board chairman, stated such matters are handled by two provincial departments, one covering relief and the other social services. From the latter the city received no aid for the medical project, he said.

Alderman W. L. Morgan stated the agreement with the doctors "looked like a bad deal for the city." He contended Victoria was paying almost double for 125 families what it had paid for 1,000 in other years. Later he revised his statement to say costs to Victoria were up about 1,000 per cent per patient.

Mayor McGavin agreed it was a bad deal, if Alderman Morgan's figures were correct.

NOT BAD DEAL

"No, it isn't," My colleague is unduly alarmed," Alderman Worthington replied, asking the council to have trust in the committee and voicing the hope the city would receive more from the government than had been promised.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar noted pensioners of various types, who were really the legitimate charge of the government, were securing treatment. He did not see why the city should pay for them, he said, adding he thought Victoria had an excellent argument in them for better terms.

Alderman P. E. George challenged Alderman Morgan on his bad deal statement, saying the committee hoped for more than was promised.

Alderman Archie Wills asked Alderman Morgan for an explanation. The latter replied he also wanted information and he knew only that charges against the city had risen enormously.

Alderman Dewar asked the council what the other members would have done in the situation. Provision had to be made for the indigent ill in the city, he said.

It was the best deal the city could make, Alderman S. H. Okeill stated.

EPIDEMIC PRECAUTIONS

Dealing with health matters later in the meeting Alderman Wills asked if health authorities here were going to take action before the westward-moving epidemics reached Victoria or were going to wait until they arrived. He thought certain precautions might be taken in respect to the assembly of school children.

Alderman Worthington stated the city health officer and school doctor, along with other health officials, were watching the situation closely.

Earlier in the meeting the council endorsed a motion from Alderman Worthington asking Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, to call a meeting of municipal health boards of Greater Victoria with a view to formation of a metropolitan health board.

That proposal had been advanced in a letter from Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, who noted its benefits in dealing with a widespread outbreak of disease.

Convenience Open

Victoria's new public convenience, located behind the City Hall on Fiddler's Green, has been open for a week, Alderman Ed. Williams, its sponsor, told the City Council yesterday afternoon.

"When is it going to be dedicated?" the mayor asked.

"I don't like the color scheme," said Alderman R. A. C. Dewar in criticism of the red, white and blue motif.

J. Murray, market superintendent, was appointed janitor for the building with an increase in wages.

One-hour Parking Set for Yates St.

A one-hour parking limit on Yates Street, between Blanshard and Quadra, was ordered by the City Council yesterday afternoon, following debate which brought forth a short altercation between Alderman Archie Wills and Mayor McGavin, and a charge by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar that Alderman Ed. Williams had "crawfished" on a parking issue last year.

The question came up for discussion in the public works committee's report.

Alderman Archie Wills moved, in view of a petition from 80 per cent of the occupiers of premises on the block requesting no change in all-day parking regulations, that no change be made.

Alderman Ed. Williams referred to the letter from Mackenzie, White & Dunsmuir Ltd., asking for regulations, and stating all-day parkers were monopolizing the area before his store and keeping business away. The alderman noted those against any change would be satisfied with two-hour parking if some regulation were required.

The mayor declared it should be one-hour or nothing, noting the businessmen should be considered.

Alderman Dewar moved one-hour parking be established.

Alderman W. H. Davies declared all-day parking a "menace." He did not explain the danger.

Alderman W. L. Morgan noted Mackenzie, White & Dunsmuir Ltd. wanted protection against conditions which they claimed were destroying their business.

'CRAWFISH' CHARGE

Alderman Dewar remarked hour parking applied to the section of Government Street on which one theatre was located. He did not see why it should not apply to the other theatre district. Former Alderman Hawkins and Alderman Williams had "crawfished" on half-hour parking on Douglas Street last year, he said, while he had stuck to his guns.

Alderman Williams took exception to the remark.

"There is a vast difference between changing your mind and crawling. You ought to know that," he shot back at Alderman Dewar.

"That's enough," the mayor interjected.

Alderman Williams declared the chief of police ready to accept two-hour parking on the Yates Street block.

Alderman Wills raised the question over the names of businessmen who objected to all-day parking. He cited several automobile dealers who had supported the petition calling for retention of existing freedom there.

The mayor thought the question too contentious. He suggested it be laid over for a week, and stated he would see the merchants in the meantime. "All right, if it's the position of the mayor to lobby," Alderman Wills said.

"I don't lobby. I never have and I never will," the mayor replied.

"You will be lobbying if you see them," Alderman Wills retorted.

An amendment calling for two-hour parking was put and defeated on a 6 to 4 vote.

The Dewar motion for one hour was carried on a like division.

Where to Stay and Play On Vancouver Island

By E. L. FORBES
Cheers for the Weather Man! He says "fine and warmer"—so look forward to a grand Labor Day week-end.

I hope you are going to make the holiday a real occasion. I mean a Vancouver Island week-end. Get away on Saturday and don't come back until late Monday night. There are so many interesting places to explore here and you can do it all so reasonably you should miss no opportunity to check in on this island's holiday possibilities.

Again I'm going to remind you that September is one of the most beautiful months of the year on Vancouver Island. If you have not taken a vacation yet, start to plan right now for a few days or a week. You'll find all the hotels, resorts and auto camps offer the same special brand of service in September that they do in the summer months, with this added attraction—rates are much lower. That's something to consider if you're on a budget. End-of-the-season suggestions:

Vacation Land

The Land of the Sky-blue Water may have been a swell place years ago; but today I would say that it's too far away to go for a week-end or so. Just now it is Vancouver Island where tourists are happy to be; it's easy to get there, and likely the spot where the folks from back home you will see. There's all the outdoors you couldn't conceive, and if that ain't enough we can throw in some stuff like magicians keep 'way up their sleeve. There are mountains that dare you to climb them, and beaches to lure you to rest; better come and find out what the noise is about—it's the playground of all the northwest.

Saanich Liberals Nominate Whittaker

Hon. N. W. Whittaker, K.C., Speaker of the Provincial Legislature at dissolution and Saanich member since 1933, was named Liberal standardbearer for Saanich in the forthcoming election at the nominating convention of the Saanich Liberal Association last night.

More than 120 delegates from all Saanich—including North Saanich which is now part of the provincial riding—attended the convention and unanimously chose Mr. Whittaker as their nominee.

The nomination was made by A. K. Dobson. "Mr. Whittaker has represented the whole of Saanich as impartially, as fairly and squarely as any man could," Mr. Dobson said. "He has a splendid record, and has brought credit to his office of Speaker."

HON. N. W. WHITTAKER, K.C.

"Mr. Whittaker has fulfilled his obligations admirably," said Tom Alexander, seconding the nomination. "A man who beat a former premier in his own constituency is welcome to the endorsement of this convention at any time."

"I trust you never will have cause to regret that you have given me your confidence once more," said Mr. Whittaker, accepting the nomination.

Main problem in Saanich was highways, the candidate asserted, and it therefore was reasonable that a uniform policy should prevail both in North Saanich and the constituency as it existed before passage of the redistribution bill. He promised North Saanich fair and just treatment if elected.

Regarding British Columbia's contribution to the war effort, Mr. Whittaker said Premier Pattullo had on many occasions told the federal government that British Columbia would do whatever was desired. The province had assumed without protest the Dominion's share of unemployment relief, he pointed out, and had abandoned the provincial income tax at Ottawa's request.

WAR WORK

In a review of war work done by the various departments of the provincial government, Mr. Whittaker said the B.C. Agricultural Production Commission had been set up by the agriculture department to co-ordinate activities in meeting emergency conditions. Measures had been taken to conserve foodstuffs and, through the department's initiative, more than 100 acres had been sown in fibre flax, useful in parachute manufacture. A subsidy had been granted egg producers to enable them to ship eggs to Britain at Atlantic seaboard prices.

In the attorney-general's department, he said, the provincial police were working in close co-operation with the naval, army and air force intelligence services and were supervising civilian protection activities.

The department of education was providing training in war work for young men and women, correspondence courses for men in the services and classes for trades specialists.

Mr. Whittaker said the department of the provincial secretary was helping by making searches for certificates needed by men of the forces, and that the Child Welfare Branch had placed 211 British guest children in the province.

The lands department had lent equipment to the Department of National Defence and had set aside 16 airdromes and defence sites and 85 wharf sites for the use of this Dominion department. The labor department had supplied labor for defence projects without delay through its employment service, and the turned over all its camps and accommodations to the National Defence Department.

"This record can't be called spectacular," Mr. Whittaker said, "but it is a solid record of co-operation."

RETIREMENT PENSIONS

He said he saw a great need for a system of retirement pensions for persons between the ages of 55 and 70.

"I'm not going to promise that this will be brought about by a provincial government," he said. "It is more likely to be part of a federal scheme. But it is important to elect representatives who are in sympathy with such a plan. I am heartily behind it whether it is done by a provincial administration or the federal government."

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., spoke in support of Mr. Whittaker. He said he foresaw no difficulty in the coming election. "I think Mr. Whittaker has performed a service quite unique for this district," he said.

Salvation Army Concert Tomorrow

The Salvation Army Citadel Band will give a farewell concert in the Broad Street Citadel tomorrow evening at 8, before leaving for Vernon. Bandmaster George Bower of the Esquimalt Garrison Band will be guest conductor.

Attached to the band are Salvationist bandmen of the three services who are on duty in the Victoria district.

The band will visit Vancouver, Chilliwack, Kelowna and Kamloops.

Following is the program for the concert: March, "Collingwood"; suite, "The Pilgrim Way"; male voice party, "Good-bye Egypt"; cornet solo, "Happy Song"; Bandmaster. Bert Mills; war song, "The King Is Still In London"; reading, "When Our Band Plays"; selection, "Gems from Gounod"; vocal solo, Adjutant Habkirk; instrumental quartette, "Gift of Love"; "Soldiers of the King"; hymn, "My Shepherd"; selection, "Songs of Ireland"; march, "Certitude."

V.I. HARDWOOD FLOOR CO.
707 JOHNSON - G7314Librarians Discuss
Adult Education

Libraries should take the lead, in co-operation with other agencies, in establishing systems of adult education, Glen Burch of Clatsop County Library, Astoria, told the small libraries section of the Pacific Northwest Library Association today.

Mr. Burch said he thought there could be no effective library work with groups until the libraries worked with other agencies. He recommended that libraries take the initiative in drawing up adult education programs.

Chairman of the section, which discussed adult education by the small library, was Mabel E. Doty of the La Grande, Ore., public library. Other speakers included Virginia Sanders, Billings, Mont.; Marguerita McDonald, Ellensburg, Wash.; and Eva Santee, Vancouver, Wash.

Other groups meeting were the county library section and the college section, under chairmanship of Mrs. Dessa Hofstetter of Ontario, Ore., and Janet Walker of Portland, respectively. In the college section, W. Kaye Lamb and Dorothy Kelly of the University of British Columbia Library spoke on Canadian documents.

Speakers included William Tucker, Olympia; Katherine Anderson, Portland; Kathleen Campbell, Missoula; R. Bruce Carrick, Abbotsford; and Mary

Frances Gilbert, The Dalles. More than 200 delegates had registered at the Empress Hotel today for the annual convention of the association. The convention will continue tomorrow.

AMERICA BEHIND
FREEDOM FIGHT

"The people of America," says Walter W. Wood, mayor of Roanoke, Virginia, in a letter to Mayor Andrew McGavin, "are with you 100 per cent so long as the danger from the iron heel boot of Germany is imminent and until the right of free government, right of free speech, and the right to worship our God as we please is restored to the people of this hemisphere."

The communication was brought back to Victoria by George W. Allison who conveyed this city's greetings to the Virginia centre in a letter from Mayor McGavin to the Roanoke chief magistrate delivered during the D.O.K.K. convention there. "I personally believe that when the final inventory is taken the English-speaking people will realize that some blessing has followed from the present catastrophe and the English-speaking people have been bound closer together by the golden tie of friendship and true understanding," the letter said.

Robert Wilkinson of Vancouver was appointed a member of the Board of Trustees under the Canteen Funds Act by provincial order today.

George Petch was fined $20 in City Police Court today when found guilty of driving in a dangerous manner on Pembroke Street on August 23. David Barr said the accused backed into his car when it was parked outside his home on Pembroke Street, and then drove away. Petch said he did not think any damage had been done, but had found afterwards that the runningboard on Mr. Barr's car had been bent.

Herring Packing

To assist the federal government in filling an order of 1,630,000 cases of canned herring for Britain, the provincial government today established what amounts to a priority for canning of herring caught on the east coast of Vancouver Island.

It provides that herring canning must be done subject to War Measures Act regulations and covers the east coast of the island from Cape Scott south to Sombrio Point.

"We are collaborating with Ottawa in seeing that the British order is properly filled," said Hon. George S. Pearson, Commissioner of Fisheries. He said licenses for reduction of herring will be granted only on condition that the regulations regarding the supply for canning are observed.

A taxi driver was fined $5 in City Police Court today for not having the proper license to carry passengers for hire.

Ottawa Can Prevent Chaos

Wisner Urges One Policy
On Clock Issue in B.C.

An application to Ottawa to act under the War Measures Act to straighten out the tangled daylight saving problem in British Columbia was suggested today by Attorney-General Wisner.

Mr. Wisner disclosed he had advised several municipalities that their best method of going back to standard time was to agree on a joint policy and then apply to Ottawa for exemption from daylight time by zones.

The provincial government has not the power to grant exemptions, but Ottawa can act under the War Measures law, he said. "If we have the present patchwork quilt method of going back to standard time we're bound to have chaos," the Attorney-General said, referring to the fact that numerous up-country districts have decided to go back to standard time on varying dates.

He suggested that the time question should be thoroughly discussed at the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities next month and when a policy was settled the union could apply to Ottawa to have the time fixed by zones.

WOULD ACCEPT PLAN

"This government would gladly accept such a plan," he said. "We have no desire to foist daylight saving time on anyone. It was instituted to help Ottawa in war production and we had to make it province-wide because of our legislation. Where the extra daylight hour is not essential for war industries there is no reason municipalities should not put the clocks back. But where it is done without legal authority, various services like government offices, legal offices and others governed by statute must adhere to daylight saving. Even early closing by-laws for stores would have to be changed."

"I think it would be better to defer the haphazard method of changing the time until the municipal union can reach a settled policy."

TOWN TOPICS

John Edward Dalman, 11, 574 Bay Street, was reported in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today where he was taken Wednesday after suffering back injuries in a bicycle and car accident. A fine of $5 was imposed on a Chinese, Low Chin, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Provincial Police Court yesterday for carrying on business as a peddler without taking out a license and paying in advance a specified sum of $20. A $10 fine was imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall on a taxi company in City Police Court today when the company pleaded guilty to having one of its cars parked within 10 feet of a fire hydrant. Three motorists were fined $10 each for speeding. One was fined $5 for making a U-turn and another was fined $5 for not giving a hand signal. Seven were fined $2.50 each on parking charges.

George Petch was fined $20 in City Police Court today when found guilty of driving in a dangerous manner on Pembroke Street on August 23. David Barr said the accused backed into his car when it was parked outside his home on Pembroke Street, and then drove away. Petch said he did not think any damage had been done, but had found afterwards that the runningboard on Mr. Barr's car had been bent.

As the result of a raid by B.C. police on the Four-Mile House on August 17, Ernest Goucher, proprietor, was found guilty of allowing persons to have liquor on the premises and was fined $50 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Provincial Police Court yesterday. The accused was represented by Sinclair Elliott. Police produced in court a number of liquor bottles and glasses seized from patrons of the restaurant in the raid. Mr. Goucher said he had seen no liquor being drunk, and his waitresses had orders to report to him any time liquor was in evidence in the restaurant.

Mr. Murray said he understood engineers for Bralorne, Pioneer, Premier, Consolidated and Conwest Companies were on the scene. Fifty prospectors are in the district now, he said. About 120 claims have been staked and others are being staked on nearby Poison Mountain, Rex Peak and Red Mountain.

Mr. Murray said the strike was above timber line. In the area there is no vegetation, no sign of life except an occasional mountain sheep.

But he said he believed it has wonderful prospects. "They are finding gold in the conglomerates like they did in South Africa. I wouldn't be surprised if it turns into another Rand, with Austin Taylor in the role of Cecil Rhodes."

When the invitation was given for R.A.F. members to sing at the cheer-up concert at Beacon Hill Park last night, men swarmed up from all sides, and the stage would not hold them all. They finally gathered in front of the bandstand, from where they sang several Old Country songs.

Jerry Gosling, R.A.F., of Yorkshire, England, won the interservice competition held for members of the three forces, with his monologue, Billy Hall, R.C.A.F., placed second with his vocal solo, "If I Had My Way." Third was Bombardier G. Letnes, R.C.A.F., of Prince Rupert, with his mouth organ.

Most of the R.A.F. boys who came in their names at the registration booth contacted willing hosts before the conclusion of the concert. Among the visitors who registered were 83 from England, seven from Scotland, five from Wales, one from Ireland and two from Shanghai.

Returning to Victoria from California on a visit after 19 years of absence John B. Greenlaw is so impressed that he volunteers a eulogy of Victoria.

"It is the most picturesque, most beautiful, most charming, most restful place on the whole Pacific Coast," he says.

Remarking on the green boulevards, foliage in the parks and gardens of the city, he said "Victoria is truly an Evergreen City." "I've been in many pretty places. I've been to Honolulu, which they call the 'Paradise of the Pacific,' but let me tell you, Victoria has them all beaten."

"The young people here have nothing more to wish for, they've got everything, they're at the end of the rainbow."

A permit for a $3,500 five-room home at 31 Wellington Avenue, was issued by the city building inspector's department today to M. F. Champion.

French Waters

VICHY (AP)—The Jibuti radio announced today four British warships and a flotilla of armed launches and planes have established control over French Somaliland territorial waters.

The speaker said the situation had reached a dramatic point with all French blockade-running launches stopped and their cargoes dumped overboard or seized. British ships have not left territorial waters of the French East African colony for 10 days, the broadcast said.

It reported Jibuti, chief port of French Somaliland and Gulf of Aden terminus of the railroad to Addis Ababa, has been cut off from Turbia, in the tiny French possession of Sheikh-Said across the gulf on the Arabian shore, and the nearby British-controlled Perim Island on which it is dependent for its water supply.

The French Somaliland governor was said to have made another formal protest against the British blockade Monday.

WORLD PROGRAM FOR DEMOCRACY
Terms of the eight-point program proclaimed by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are armistice terms, not peace terms, Elmore Philpot said last night in an address at the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Library Association. Mr. Philpot spoke at a banquet in the Empress Hotel.

"The next peace can be made real and lasting only if the United States and the British Commonwealth organize it on a basis of international police and not mere placitudes," he declared. He termed the eight-point program announced after the recent Atlantic conference a fine statement to help end the war.

Basic cause of modern wars was the lack of organized law and order in the international field, said the speaker, who analyzed the features of the age of nationalism. The Kaiser has come and gone, he said, and Hitler was going. But others like them would surely arise in the future unless conditions which not only made it possible for them to operate but made it absolutely inevitable that they do so were wiped out.

"Democracy must produce as clear-cut a world program for world organization as that of Communism on the one hand or Fascism on the other. There could be no greater folly than to underestimate the strength of either or both of these," Mr. Phil-pot said.

"Everybody knows that we cannot do the whole job at once. But we can get security for ourselves, and hold out a concrete hope to nations now enslaved by the Nazis by the simple process of extending into the international field the familiar principles of democratic government which we have long used in our local and national governments."

FEDERAL UNION
The ideal plan would be for the United States and the whole British Commonwealth to form themselves into one actual federal union, to which other genuine democracies could be admitted from time to time.

"But experience indicates that such things tend to grow into being rather than to spring into organization, full fledged."

"What is vitally necessary is that an international police force, backed by the United States, Britain, and any other eligible de-mocracies should stand permanently on guard as the guarantor of the next peace; and that such a force should be governed on a truly democratic basis, by elected statesmen, responsible to the people who elect them, and who have the power to dismiss them."

More than 150 librarians from all parts of the Pacific Northwest attended the dinner. Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, extended an invitation to visit Helmcken House and special exhibits arranged at the Provincial Library and Archives.

W. T. Straith, K.C., welcomed delegates at the banquet. He said Victoria was particularly fortunate in having the facilities of both the Provincial Library and the Victoria Public Library.
Miss Julia Sotekett of the Vancouver Public Library expressed the pleasure of the delegates at coming to Victoria for the fourth time.

Wallis C. Warren, president of the association and director of the University of Oregon Library, Eugene, opened the first general session in the afternoon.

Librarians should make regular surveys of the subjects of greatest interest in their communities, Mr. Warren said, and should supply the public with the material most desired. He said that with the increase in defence projects, communities were rapidly changing and the demand for reading matter varied accordingly.

This afternoon was left free on the program so that the librarians might see the city and its library facilities. Tonight, Mrs. Mary Duncan Carter, director of the School of Library Science, University of Southern California, will address the convention on

THE BIG STORE
MARX FUNFEST
Does Harpo Marx really prefer blondes? The star comedian, who has been chasing blondes throughout his 11 years on the screen, and who married a brunette, picked a redhead when asked to select one girl out of 200 extras for a comedy scene with him in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Big Store." The Marx Brothers funfest opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

The girl, Wanda Cantlon, was to slap him when he gave her auburn locks a yank, mistaking her for a mannequin in a department store gown shop. Harpo was allowed to pick the girl himself when the scene was added to the script at the last moment.

BOY BANDIT ROLE
TAKEN FROM LIFE
Showing a boy bandit of seven who robs a filling station and pawsonp may seem far-fetched, but the role of Flip, child robber in "Men of Boys Town," was taken from life.

Darryl Hickman portrayed the character in the film, which stars Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney and comes today to the Oak Bay Theatre for an engagement of three days. The part of Flip was written from a case in the files of Father Edward J.
Flanagan's Boys Town, that of a seven-year-old bandit who robbed a bank to become the youngest hold-up man in the records of crime.

ELABORATE SETS
IN 'FOOTSTEPS'
A new type of set construction was used at Warner Bros. for the new Errol Flynn starring picture,
"Footsteps in the Dark," which opened today at the York Theatre.

Representing an ultra-swank penthouse apartment of entrance hallway, living-room, bedroom, kitchenette and bath, it was designed and built with removable walls, any one or several of which could be rolled in or out of place almost instantly.

TIM HOLT STARS
Tim Holt, son of the ever-his first appearance as a western star, has been such a success that he has just approved a contract to make six more thrilling western dramas, of which he will be starred. His latest picture is "Robbers of the Range," now being shown at the Rio Theatre.

NEWEST AIR FILM
With air defence uppermost, "I Wanted Wings," the Paramount aviation epic which opened today at the Atlas Theatre, could not time. Besides offering us first-quality screen entertainment, the picture gives us our first authentic glimpse of how youth is being trained for roles in the sky.

Capt. Hamilton Gets New Berth

Capt. J. T. Hamilton, well-known master in the Canadian Pacific coastwise service, has been appointed assistant marine superintendent, B.C. Coast Steamship Service, at Vancouver, it was announced today by Capt. R. W. McMurray, general manager.

The appointment becomes effective September 1.

Capt. O. J. Williams, marine superintendent of the service, at present stationed in Vancouver, will be transferred to Victoria.

On account of the growing importance of the gulf business between here and the B.C. mainland and the fact that the marine superintendent must, of necessity, be absent from his office for a large proportion of his time while traveling on company business, it is considered necessary to have an assistant marine superintendent stationed at Vancouver with duties confined mainly to operating matters at that port, Capt. McMurray said. The office of marine superintendent, which was formerly in Victoria was transferred to Vancouver about 1924. Now it will return to this port.

Capt. Hamilton joined the B.C. Coast Steamship Service in 1917 and has served continuously in all ranks, on all vessels and all routes of the company's service.

He was born in New Westminster and went to high school in Victoria. Until recently, Capt. Hamilton has been in command of the Motor Princess, operating in the Sidney-Steveston service.

Hannington Court Burned at Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—Word of a futile six-day attempt by the crew of the British freighter Hannington Court to put out a fire aboard their ship on the high seas reached New York shipping circles today.

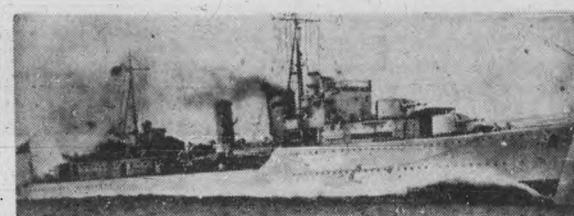

The two-year-old 5,449-ton vessel left Capetown, South Africa, July 13, and two days later the fire broke out. The 38-man crew fought it until July 21 before abandoning ship. Two engineers lost their lives in the blaze.

The survivors were picked up by a British auxiliary cruiser and returned to Capetown. Advice did not report the fire's cause.

The Hannington Court is known at Victoria, having engaged in the British Columbia-United Kingdom lumber trade as a new ship after being commissioned.

Patrol Boat Launched

TORONTO (CP)—A sleek, grey submarine patrol boat was launched late yesterday without ceremony on the Toronto waterfront. Only a few persons be-

DESTROYERS TO BE BUILT IN CANADA—British shipbuilding experts will soon be in Canada to assist in the big program of constructing destroyers in Canadian yards. Angus L. Macdonald, Canada's navy minister, announced in London. The destroyers, which will be built for the Canadian navy as part of the big expansion program, will be of the Tribal class. They displace 1,870 tons and carry eight 4.7-inch guns and four 21-inch torpedo tubes. The prewar cost averaged $2,000,000 in British shipyards.

sides workers at the dock witnessed the launching.

The ship was christened by Miss Betty Flavell, daughter of Sir Ellsworth Flavell, who broke a bottle of champagne over its bow as it slid down the runway.

LUCKY MESS BOY

LOS ANGELES—A 17-year-old mess boy, William Allred, of the liner Matsonia, lived through an experience today that convinced him he has a guardian angel.

As the liner neared Los Angeles harbor, Allred leaned far over the deck, trying to see ashore through the morning fog. Somehow he slipped and fell into the ocean, about five miles off Point Fermin.

No one saw his plunge nor heard his choked cries. The Matsonia left him behind. Allred shed his outer garments and swam for nearly an hour. Then his legs began to cramp. Again he shouted almost hopelessly for help. Suddenly a navy boat loomed close out of the fog.

A life preserver swished out to him and he was pulled aboard. From the navy anchorage later, Allred was taken in a coastguard patrol boat back to the Matsonia.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts led a further specialized recovery shift in Thursday's stock market but even these never got far off the ground.

Among favored shares most of the session were Boeing and Consolidated Aircraft, which edged into new high territory for the year; Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Standard Oil (N.J.), American Can, Westinghouse, Air Reduction, Johns-Manville, Montgomery Ward, and Great Northern.

Pepsi-Cola and Richfield Oil, speedy sprinters of the past week or so, backed down under profit offerings. Steels, motors, rubbers and utilities moved narrowly in either direction.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Dome lost 1/2 while Walkers gained 1/4.

Dryden Hits High

MONTREAL (CP).—Trading turned decidedly active on the stock market Thursday, following news that Iranian opposition to Russo-British forces had ceased.

The general tendency, however, was downward except in papers and utilities, where prices were mixed.

Dryden went to a new high in newspapers, and gains also were reported for St. Lawrence Corporation and Price Brothers. Howard Smith and Bathurst were slightly in arrears.

Bell Telephone put on a point in utilities and Quebec Power was fractionally harder. Brazilian slipped a fraction.

Iceland's Women Wash Clothes at Hot Springs

It may seem strange to find hot water outdoors in a country called Iceland, but that can be done. It is done as a regular thing, not in just one place but in many.

The hot water comes from hot springs. Water boils up from the ground, and Iceland's women often use it to wash their clothes. They also cook coffee at the hot springs.

Washing day beside one of the hot springs of Iceland.

One spring in Iceland is believed to be the hottest in the world. A few feet below its surface the water has a temperature 50 degrees above the boiling point!

Iceland gave the world the name "geyser." It came from the old Norse language and means "gusher." The geysers of Iceland do not at present compare with those of Yellowstone Park, but years ago there was one which went up to a height of 150 feet. That was called the Great Geyser, but it turned into a hot spring and doesn't gush into the air anymore.

The island has been called "the Land of Ice and Fire." That is a fairly good name. The mountains are capped with snow and ice the year around, but on the other hand there are scores of active volcanoes.

The volcanoes have played a part in Iceland's history, and sometimes have made life hard for the people. In the years from 1300 to 1339 there came a series of explosions, chiefly from Hekla, a volcano with a cone almost a mile high.

Another series of explosions came in the period from 1727 to 1783. The lava and ashes covered hundreds of farms, spoiling the crops and the grass on which livestock had grazed. This led to the death of cattle and sheep. Thousands of the people died from hunger and disease.

Perhaps the greatest lava stream in history came from an Iceland volcano called Laki. In 1783 it sent out lava which became a hot river with a length of 50 miles. In some parts this lava river was from 12 to 15 miles wide.

Vast stretches of land in Iceland today are lava fields. The lava hardened into rock when it cooled. One field now has an area of 1,200 square miles.

There also are snow fields of great size. The largest of these covers about 3,000 square miles.

Dr. Willis Leads Discussion

OTTAWA (CP)—Provision of bursaries to help rural students secure educational opportunities comparable to those of urban students was suggested by a group of delegates to the 19th convention of the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association.

The group, led by Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister of education for British Columbia, was discussing "democracy in administration." It also recommended formation and extension of parent-teachers associations and trustee-teacher conferences.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man 25 years old, engaged to a girl with whom I am very much in love. We had planned to be married in about a month, but last night she told me that she could not cook and didn't intend to even try to learn. This girl is working, but doesn't intend to after we are married. I would like to marry her, but if we are not going to have enough of a home to eat in it is not worth having under any circumstances. Now my problem is: Where do I go from here?

J.F.W.

Answer: Well, if I were you, whatever direction I took would be away from the altar so far as that girl is concerned.

The heart of a home is the kitchen. No one can imagine a happy home where there is no good food, no special dishes concocted for somebody's particular appetite and no cheerful woman bustling about making her family comfortable.

If men were wise they would never marry a girl who didn't like to cook and didn't know how to do it. And she would have to prove it by setting before him a meal of her own handiwork.

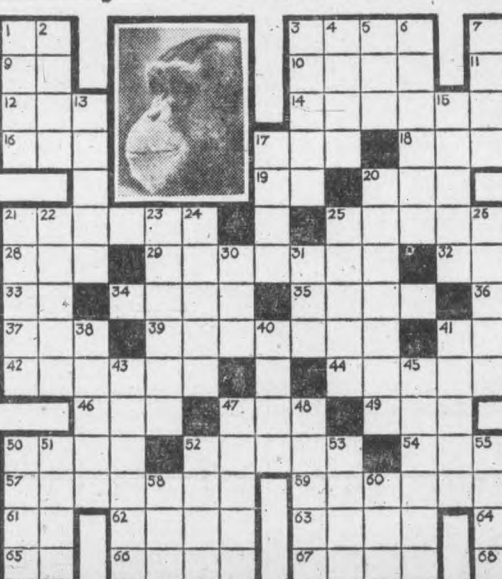

DEAR MISS DIX—Is there a name for one who never tells the truth, and is there any cure for it? I am in love with a man like that. I cannot depend upon a thing he says. What would you do if you were in my place?

DOWNGHEARTED.

Answer: The name is LIAR, and there is no cure for it. A liar has no principle in him. He is false from his head to his heels. You can never trust or depend on him, and if you value your own happiness you will not marry such a man.

DOROTHY DIX.

Emphasize Health Rules for Schools

School health authorities here lent greater emphasis to their announcement of Greater Victoria regulations covering children entering city schools for the first time, as the spread of serious diseases continued elsewhere.

The regulations state all children about to enter Victoria public schools, including Victoria High, for the first time, or those who have been absent from the Greater Victoria district for more than two weeks prior to the opening of school, will be excluded for a period of 14 days. At the expiration of that time, a certificate to enter school must be obtained either from Dr. C. W. Sanders, school medical health officer, or from Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, at the city health office.

Parents were also advised to keep such children from public meetings, moving pictures or other gatherings during the period of exclusion.

No definite diagnosis has yet been announced covering three men from the Naval Barracks, who were placed in hospital here last week on suspicion of poliomyelitis, but health authorities were taking every precaution within their power against the spread of the disease in Victoria.

Fire Rushed to Firemen

It is the usual procedure for firemen to speed to a fire, but Tuesday afternoon the rule was reversed when a fire was rushed to the firemen.

While driving around town in a hired car, H. Harris, St. James Hotel, noticed smoke coming from one of the seats. Repeating to himself the familiar adage, "Where there is smoke there is fire," Mr. Harris stopped the car to investigate.

He was unsuccessful in his search for the cause of the smoke so he got back into the car and rushed to the city fire hall. He drove the car practically into the station and called for assistance.

Cause of the smoke was found to be a cigarette stub which had burned away a portion of the car upholstery.

Speakers at the meeting included George Cruickshank, M.P., for Fraser Valley; D. W. Strachan, M.P., in the last Legislature for Dewdney; E. D. Barrow, Chilliwack, former Minister of Agriculture; Charles Reid, Vancouver, and Byron Johnson.

MOTORISTS FINED

When he pleaded guilty in provincial police court yesterday to a charge of driving in a dangerous manner, Edward Ilott was fined $25 and $2.50 costs and his drivers' license was suspended for three months.

The accused was in an accident on the Island Highway near the Thetis Lake Road in which he struck a Veteran stage driven by Art Wale, Constable Frank Clark of the B.C. Police said.

After hitting the bus, Ilott's car continued for 163 feet, landing in a ditch on the wrong side of the road.

Another motorist was fined $10 and $2.50 cost when he pleaded guilty of driving without glasses when his license called for him to use glasses.

Constable Wm. Jaffre said the accused could see without glasses at 20 feet what he should be able to see at 160 feet.

A fine of $10 and $2.50 costs was imposed on a third motorist when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to keep to the right of the yellow line on the highway.

A woman motorist was fined $5 and $2 costs for driving without a license.

OIL INDUSTRY DISPLAY AT FAIR

A display depicting oil fields and the by-products of oil will be constructed by the Shell Oil Company of British Columbia Limited for the Victoria Fair at the Willows September 6 to 13.

Apart from the many commercial and educational displays, there will be thousands of competitive exhibits for which entries are now being received. Latest date for receiving entries is August 30.

The oil field display will include continuous showing of two motion pictures, "Oil for Alladin's Lamp" and "Oil From the Earth." These films illustrate modern methods of oil drilling and refining, and the film "Oil for Alladin's Lamp" shows the by-products which have been developed by Shell's $3,500,000 laboratory, such as plastic material, toluene, which is the basic ingredient for TNT, ladies' wearing apparel, synthetic glass, vitamins for poultry feeds, cosmetics, fertilizers and many other products.

This display will be surrounded by appropriate scenery featuring an oil well scene, and in the background will be a number of articles, which will include automobile tires and a miniature oil well with a walking beam that will actually operate and pump oil.

Many Visit Historic Museum

Scores of tourists and residents took advantage Tuesday of the opening of Helmcken House to see some historical treasures of Victoria which have been preserved there by the provincial archives.

The old building, part of which was erected in 1852, has been preserved as nearly as possible in the original state. Some of the furniture was brought around Cape Horn in 1850 by Dr. J. S. Helmcken, who built the house.

An interesting relic is a medicine chest which Dr. Helmcken brought aboard the sailing vessel Normah Morrison.

Ferry Charter

One tender was submitted to Public Works Minister C. S. Leary today for a five-year charter on operating a ferry on Seymour Arm, Ancey Arm and Salmon Arm on Shuswap Lake. It asked for an $800 annual subsidy and was made by Capt. F. M. Smith, who has been operating a service there privately. A previous government ferry on the lake was discontinued four years ago.
